Notorious Gossip

An angry man dashed into the editor's office of a newspaper. "What do you mean by this?" he thundered, pointing to an obituary notice in the local paper. "What about it?" asked the editor. "Your beastly paper has announced my death!" "H'm," said the editor, "I'm afraid we cannot contradict anything we have already published. But I'm willing to come to terms. Without charging you anything, I will put you in the births column to-morrow and give you a fresh start in life."

The teacher of a Sunday School class was explaining the story of Elijah and the prophets of Baal; how Elijah built the altar, put wood upon it, and cut the bullock in pieces and laid them on the altar.

"And then," said the teacher, "he commanded the people to fill four barrels with water and pour it over the altar, and they did this four times. Now, can anyone tell why all this water was poured over the bullock on the altar?"

"Please, sir, to make the gravy," came a prompt reply from one small listener.

"I have called to see why your daughter hasn't attended school lately," said the school attendance officer as he stood at the cottage door.

"Cause I think she's learnt enough," retorted the child's mother.

"Why," exclaimed the visitor, "she's only passed through two classes."

"Well, ain't that enough?" asked the woman. "I dunno what education is comin' to. When I was young, if a gal understood the elements of distraction, privation or replenishin', an' the common dominator, an' knew all the rivers and their tributaries, the pin vines and the umpires, she was reckoned to have education enough to see her through."

The vicar dropped in for a chat with an old villager in his garden. "Well, George, that's a wonderful garden you have there," he remarked.

"Yes, parson," replied George proudly.

"And what a wonderful vegetable garden, too!"

"Yes, parson."

"You must thank the Almighty for that."

"Parson, did you ever see this piece of ground when the Almighty had it all to Himself?"

G.C.V.O. FOR DUKE OF BUCCLEUCH

London, Nov. 28.
H.M. the King has conferred the Grand Cross of the Victorian Order on the Duke of Buccleuch. The Duke, who is the eighth holder of the title, recently succeeded his father, on the latter's death. He is a brother of the Duchess of Gloucester. Born in December, 1894, he became a Lieutenant in the 1st Grenadier Guards in 1915 and a captain three years later. He was A.D.C. to the Governor-General of Canada in 1920, and in the following year was appointed to the Reserve of Officers.

ORDER TO RESIST YIN JU-KENG

Nanking, Nov. 27.
The Finance Ministry has received a telegram from the Consolidated Tax Bureau at Tangshan saying that General Yen Ju-keng has demanded that his officers take over the Bureau. The Finance Ministry has replied instructing the head of the bureau to resist the demand and carry out his functions as usual.

SOUTH AFRICA IN FOUR DAYS

Agreements For Air Services

(Special Air Mail Service).

London, Nov. 8.
The Air Ministry and the General Post Office announce that discussions have been taking place between the Governments concerned for some time past about the future of the air service between England and South Africa after the expiry of the existing arrangements in 1937. Agreement has now been reached between all these Governments regarding the general lines on which the service will be operated in future.

The present intention is that the main through service, twice a week in each direction, shall be operated by flying-boats via Egypt and the Sudan to Kisumu, and thence via Mombasa, Dar-es-Salaam, Mozambique, Beira, and Lourenco Marques to Durban. The Portuguese Government has concurred in the operation of this route in so far as concerns Portuguese Territory. The boats are designed for a top speed which is expected to be in the neighbourhood of 190 miles an hour and for a cruising speed of about 150 miles an hour. As a result it is hoped that the time occupied in transit between London and Durban will be reduced to four days.

By means of branch services the existing internal landplane route through Kenya, Tanganyika, and Northern Rhodesia and Southern Rhodesia will be maintained in addition to the new projected flying-boat route down the coast which will be followed by the main service.

It is contemplated that the agreement with Imperial Airways, Limited, for the operation of this and other trunk Empire services, which is now in process of negotiation, shall be for a period of years beginning in 1937, and that the subsidy payable shall be on a descending scale subject to a periodic review of costs.

QUICK RETURN JOURNEY

The acceleration in the England-South Africa air service will mean that a person will be able to travel from this country to Durban and back in little more than a week.

It was stated last night that the postal charges when the new service is put into operation will be 1/4d. for each half-ounce, instead of the present flat rate for mail carried by air of 3d. a half ounce to Egypt and Sudan and 6d. beyond Sudan to South Africa. The new scheme was described as being in some ways probably the biggest revolution in mail communication since the introduction of the penny post.

GOOD BETTER BEST

Many different brands of motor oil are available to-day. Some are just GOOD—some are BETTER than others—but Castrol is the BEST of all! Because it has the finest lubricating qualities, is unharmed by heat, provides perfect piston seal and does not carbonise readily, CASTROL is chosen by experts everywhere—on the racing track, and for the most severe car tests and trials.

It has more records to its credit than all other oils combined. Follow the experts' lead. Do not ask for just "motor oil"—specify CASTROL every time!

Are you over 40?

Difficult breathing, headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness, lack of appetite and high blood pressure are some of the dreaded symptoms of advancing age. Increasing the amount of minerals in the body is, next to the leading of a regular life, the most logical way to restore undisturbed health.

You can do this easily with Kalzana tablets, because here you have a mineral food that builds up better health in an entirely natural manner.

A well-known physician describing his experience of Kalzana Tablets with 6 patients, writes:

"Kalzana had a very favourable influence. The vitality of the patients improved remarkably, the shortness of breath disappeared and the dizziness, headache, lack of appetite and sleeplessness were conquered."

PRINCE IN HIS BEST VEIN

At G.W.R. Centenary Dinner

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Nov. 1.
The Prince of Wales was in splendid form at the Great Western Railway Centenary dinner.

He varied the customary introduction of the after-dinner speaker. He began, "Mr. Chairman, Mrs. Baldwin, ladies and gentlemen."

This tribute to the Prime Minister's wife was thoroughly appreciated. Mr. Baldwin's father was once chairman of the G.W.R., and as Lord Palmer remarked later, the Premier was himself a director until "he was enticed away to the political arena."

The Prince once again, in a phrase which brought down the house, showed that he is a diplomat born.

For some minutes he had been praising the G.W.R.

Then, without a smile, he remarked, "I am not forgetting the other railways" (pause) "but this is your night out."

QUEEN VICTORIA'S LEAD

The Prince chose a personal simile to illustrate the progress of modern transport.

When, nearly 100 years ago, Queen Victoria made her first journey by train from Slough to Paddington ("and even declared she had enjoyed it," the Prince added), men and women shook their heads. So they did, he said, to a lesser extent some years ago, when he himself began to use the aeroplane as a convenient way of getting about the country.

Sir Robert Horne began his speech not less adroitly than the Prince. In proposing the toast of the evening the Prince said that the G.W.R. was entitled to have its trumpet blown on its centenary, and that he was glad to give it "a hearty and resounding blast."

To this Sir Robert Horne replied that he was sorry he could only reply "with a very feeble horn."

SCOTS CHAIRMAN'S SCOTS JOKE

Later on the chairman related a good G.W.R. story.

One day a woman pulled the communication cord. As the train slowed down, she remembered the £5 penalty and turned for advice to a Scotsman. He replied promptly: "Give me £4 and I'll have a fit."

Speakers on such occasions, by the way, do not often acknowledge their indebtedness to Dr. Johnson with Lord Macmillan's generosity. He called him a "matchless mine for after-dinner speakers."

A sporting note was introduced by the toastmaster, Mr. Colin Symons—not less familiar at boxing contests than public dinners. His announcements were made in a tone which would not have disgraced Madison Square Garden.

NORTH CHINA SITUATION STILL IN THE DARK

Peiping, Nov. 27.

Chinese circles here welcome Nanking's attempt to counteract the autonomy moves of the enemies of the National Government with the appointment of supposedly strong and unquestionably loyal officials to key posts in North China, though they doubt whether General Yin Ju-keng's arrest will ever be carried out. It is reported that the autonomy movement's chief has gone to Tangshan.

Furthermore, the report that General Ho Ying-ching, named Nanking High Administrative Commissioner for Peiping yesterday, would not come to the old capital for at least a fortnight, induces considerable pessimism. It is felt that the problem here is a pressing one and that Japanese military leaders may not be willing to wait overlong for the outcome of the conversations between General Chiang Kai-shek and the Japanese Ambassador, Mr. A. Ariyoshi.

General Yen Hui-shan, Pacification Commissioner of Shensi Province, one of the "Big Five" of North China, has arrived at Taiyuan. It is recalled that when the Japanese leader, General Dohara, was here last week, the Japanese military spokesman stated he would probably visit General Yen on his return from Nanking. Observers are interestedly watching whether General Dohara will go to Shensi. Japanese troops arrived here yesterday afternoon and have been quartered outside the Legation quarter, and it is reported that no further Japanese reinforcements are due to-day.

NEW GLAND TREATMENT

Effect On The Personality Of Women

The development of abnormal personalities in woman has been traced to the cortex of the adrenal gland, and through surgery it has been found possible to correct the condition and restore femininity and attractiveness.

This was the substance of a paper read at the opening of a Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons in San Francisco by Dr. Frank Hinman, Professor of Urology at the University of California Medical School.

HAIR ON THE FACE

Among the abnormalities traceable to adrenal disorders are marked changes in physical appearance, including the growth of hair on the face and the development of a deep masculine voice, while the mental abnormalities include despondence and a drift towards masculine traits.

Dr. Hinman traced these adrenal disorders to two causes—the growth of tumours on the outer layer of the gland, and over-secretion for other unknown causes. Through surgery which removes two-thirds of the gland's cortex a normal feminine appearance and feminine personality are restored.

CORTIN INJECTION

While the remaining one-third is sufficient for normal processes, any insufficiency can be remedied by occasional injections of cortin, although that hormone is now very costly.

Dr. Hinman also discussed maladjustments arising from improper function of the adrenal gland's medulla. Its overfunctioning causes conditions not dissimilar from Graves disease due to overactive thyroid, while its deficiency results in asthenia and diseased conditions of the bone.

The latter condition can be readily treated by adrenalin injections, while for the former a new and delicate surgical operation has been perfected, in which some of the nerves connecting the adrenal medulla with the sympathetic nervous system are severed.

ESPIONAGE IN BRITAIN

Drawings Of R.A.F. Aerodromes Found

London, Nov. 26.

Dr. Hermann Gortz, a former officer of the German Air Force, charged at Margate with having drawn plans of British airports which might be useful to an enemy, and with conspiring with a German girl to commit offences under the Official Secrets Act, pleaded that he had not intended to break the law when he appeared to-day.

Among the articles found in his bungalow were a number of drawings of R.A.F. aerodromes. There was a plan of Manston aerodrome with a cipher key, and a map showing an aerodrome in the south of England.

A map of East Anglia bearing pencil marks was also produced. It was also alleged that Gortz's assistant, Marianne Emig, who has since returned to Germany, asked R.A.F. men for aerial photographs of the seaplane base at Lee-on-Solent.

In the course of a lengthy statement, Gortz said he had done no harm in the eyes of the law. He had no intention of offending the hospitality he had enjoyed in England.

He was remanded for a week with a view to arranging for trial at Old Bailey January Sessions.

BELGIUM'S NOTE PUBLISHED

Brussels, Nov. 28.

Belgium has lined up with France and Great Britain in the sanctions war. The Belgian reply to Italy's note of protest has been published, and it is similar to the British message to Rome.

The Belgian Government emphasises that the execution of the prescribed measures was not inspired by any unfriendly feeling for Italy and expresses the hope that an early peace may be arranged.

ITALIANS GIVE UP JEWELS

Sacrifices To Help Wage War In Ethiopia

Rome, Nov. 21.

Jewels that have graced the treasure chests of their owners for centuries, rare old coins, and much-prized medals are all going into Italy's "Gold Crusade" melting pot, as patriotic citizens give lavishly of their personal wealth to the Treasury in order to help wage the war in Abyssinia.

Mgr. Ernesto Filippi, Archbishop of Monreale in Sicily, has instructed the clergy in his diocese to offer jewels, received as gifts from grateful penitents to the government as subscription to a five per cent. war loan, drafting careful catalogues of all items thus disposed of before they are melted up for the state.

Committees have been formed in all of the villages to collect contributions, while there are many instances of personal sacrifice, such as that of the swimming champion, Giovanni Gambi, who has just offered all of his medals to the government. The collection weighs 600 grammes.—"Havas."

STOLEN RING OF GEORGE IV

Appeal By Lady Portarlington

ONCE OWNED BY MRS. FITZHERBERT

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Nov. 8.

The Countess of Portarlington is anxious to recover a ring which once belonged to King George IV. It was part of £4,000 worth of jewellery stolen from her house in Chesham-place, S.W., about a week ago, and is valued for sentimental as well as historical reasons.

Lady Portarlington, who only just failed to catch the thief on the night of the robbery, states that the ring was set with a large, yellow diamond about the size of a thumbnail, with a circle of small diamonds round it. It had been used as a messenger ring between England and France just before the Revolution. At the back of the ring there appeared to be a hinge or joint, which Lady Portarlington had made into a fixture.

George IV. gave the ring to Mrs. Fitzherbert, whose adopted daughter was Miss Mary Seymour, daughter of Lord Henry Seymour. Miss Seymour married the Hon. George Dawson in 1825 and was mother of the 4th Earl of Portarlington, grandfather of the present earl.

LONDON BOOKSELLER'S £73,000 WILL

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Nov. 8.

Mr. Benjamin Dawson Maggs, of Aylestone-avenue, Kilburn, N.W., who was instrumental in the purchase of the Codex Bezae Cantabrigie by the British Museum, left £73,813 (net personality £73,558).

Mr. Maggs was a well-known bookseller and senior partner in the firm of Maggs Bros., of Conduit-street, W. He died on October 24 last, aged 73.

£1,200 FOR A JADE BOWL

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Nov. 8.

A unique oval emerald green jade bowl, 7 1/2 in. long and 5 1/2 in. high, described as "perhaps the world's finest example of jade," realized the high figure of £1,200 at Sotheby's rooms yesterday.

It was removed from the Summer Palace of Peking during the Boxer Rebellion, when it entered a well-known European collection, later to pass into the possession of Mr. John Smiley. With lobed sides and superbly carved double handles, in the form of lotus flowers, the sides are carved with pendant floral and foliage motifs in low relief, the "fei trui" body with faint white mottling depicting Bats of Happiness, and the whole is on four lotus bud and flower supports.

RECIPES FROM VIENNA

Lunch
Risotto a la Italiano
Biscuit roulade with whipped cream

RISOTTO

1 onion
1 small cupful of rice
2 tablespoonful of fat
8 tablespoonful of grated Parmesan cheese
1 scant small cupful of cold soup
Chop the onion finely. Melt the fat in a pan and saute the onions in the fat until they are golden. Pour the rice (unwashed) into the fat, and allow it to cook for a moment. Add just enough cold soup to fill the pan three fingers deep above the rice. Stir briskly, gradually adding the grated Parmesan cheese. Boil the mixture until the rice has absorbed the soup, all the while stirring briskly. Serve at once. This is sufficient for four.

BISCUIT ROULADE

4 eggs
8 ounces of powdered sugar
4 ounces of flour
Apricot marmalade
Cream the yolks and the sugar for half an hour. Add the stiffly whisked whites of the eggs and the flour. Grease a baking-tin and line it with wax-paper. Pour the mixture on the baking-tin. (The mixture should be about one finger thick on the baking-tin.) Bake briskly in a very hot oven. When the biscuit is baked and while it is still warm, coat it with apricot marmalade and roll. When cold, serve with vanilla whipped cream.

DINNER

Cabbage soup a la Zichy
Roast chicken with salad a la Reserl
Hazelnut cake

CABBAGE SOUP

2 fresh cabbages
3 ounces of bacon
1 teaspoonful of fat
Brown soup stock
Cut the cabbage in quarters, cover with thin slices of bacon. Melt the fat in a stewing-pan; put the cabbage in it, cover and stew until the cabbage is soft. Add a few drops of the soup stock from time to time to prevent burning. Serve the cabbage with the remaining soup.

SALAD A LA RESERL

Boiled potatoes
Boiled flageolet beans
Boiled turnips
1 dessertspoonful of vinegar
1 saltspoonful of sugar
1 saltspoonful of salt
Mayonnaise
Dice the potatoes and turnips. Mix all the ingredients together with a rich mayonnaise. Serve with roast chicken.

HAZELNUT CAKE

7 ounces of sugar
7 eggs
7 ounces of grated hazelnuts
3 coffee-spoonful of pulverised coffee
Cream the sugar and the eggs well. Add the grated hazelnuts and the coffee. Coat a baking-tin well with butter; fill it with the mixture and bake in a hot oven. Turn the cake out of the pan and cut it into two layers. Place the mixture given below between the layers; cover with chocolate icing.

MIXTURE FOR CAKE

1 1/2 ounces of butter
2 egg yolks
1 1/2 ounces of chocolate
3 ounces of powdered sugar
2 teaspoonful of water
Mix together the egg yolks, the grated chocolate, the powdered sugar and the water. Cook until smooth. Add the butter. When cool, fill the cake.

DINNER
Soup with calf's brain.
Fricandeau of veal with Béchamel a la Dolli
Potatoes sautéed
Chocolate cake a la Sacher

SOUP WITH CALF'S BRAIN

1 1/2 pints of vegetable stock
1 pint of milk
1 calf's brain
1 egg yolk
1 ounce of flour
1 tablespoonful of cream
Salt
1 tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley
Melt a little butter in a sauce-pan; sprinkle in the flour; add the milk and stir until the mixture boils. Then add the vegetable stock. Blanch the brain; cut it into slices; and put it into the soup. Mix the egg yolk with the cream then add the chopped parsley. Cook the soup for a few minutes and serve immediately.

FRICANDEAU OF VEAL WITH BECHAMEL

1 1/2 pounds of sliced veal
4 ounces of butter
1 ounce of flour
1 pint of milk
4 egg yolks
2 ounces of grated Parmesan cheese
1 saltspoonful of white pepper
Salt
Roast the veal. Melt the butter; add the flour, egg yolks, milk, grated cheese, white pepper and salt; and continue stirring briskly until the mixture boils and thickens. Place the roasted veal in a fire-proof dish, pour the Béchamel sauce over it, and put it in a moderately hot oven until it has acquired more colour. Serve with sautéed potatoes. This recipe is sufficient for four persons.

CHOCOLATE CAKE A LA SACHER

3 ounces of chocolate
3 ounces of butter
3 ounces of sugar
3 ounces of flour
1 1/2 ounces of almonds, pounded in their skins
6 eggs
Melt the chocolate. Cream the butter and mix it with the chocolate, the sugar and the eggs. Add the flour; then the stiffly whisked whites of the eggs. Pour the mixture in a greased baking-tin and bake in a hot oven for about ten minutes. On following day turn cake out; divide it into two layers; and place the layers together with apricot jam. Coat the cake with chocolate icing. (This will serve four people).

CHOCOLATE ICING

2 1/2 ounces of chocolate
2 1/2 ounces of very finely powdered sugar
6 tablespoonful of boiling water
2 tablespoonful of powdered sugar
Stir the melted chocolate with the sugar. Boil the six tablespoonful of boiling water with the two tablespoonful of powdered sugar. Pour this syrup into the chocolate mixture, stirring briskly and continuously until the icing is sufficiently thick. While it is still hot, pour the icing over the cake.

APPLE ROLY-POLY

Make a good suet crust, using half a pound of flour sieved with a teaspoonful of baking powder and a pinch of salt, and four ounces of finely shredded suet. Mix with cold water, knead, roll out very thinly. Peel, core and slice the apples. Spread the paste with raspberry or strawberry jam, being liberal with this, arrange the apple slices on top and sprinkle with fine brown sugar. Roll up, put the roll on a greased dish, cover with greased paper, and bake in a moderate oven for an hour or longer, removing the greased paper when almost cooked to allow the top to brown.

CHOCOLATE NOUGAT CAKE

Measure
1 cup butter. Melt
1 square bitter chocolate in about 2 tablespoonful of the butter. Cream the remaining butter with
1 cup sugar. Add
2 unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating until light and creamy. Add the melted chocolate. Measure

1 1/2 cups bread flour, after sifting once. Then add
1 teaspoon soda and
1 teaspoon salt and sift twice. Add to butter and sugar mixture alternately with
1 cup sour milk or buttermilk. Add
1 cup nut meats (cut up) and
1 teaspoon vanilla. Bake 15 to 20 minutes in two layers. Cover with chocolate icing.

CHOCOLATE ICING

Melt
2 squares chocolate in
3 teaspoonful butter. Add
3 tablespoonful cream and enough confectioner's sugar to make of consistency to spread.

LEMON SPONGE CUPS

1 cup sugar
5 tablespoonful lemon juice
2 tablespoonful butter
Rind 1 lemon
3 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
4 tablespoonful flour
Pinch salt

Cream butter, add sugar, flour, salt, lemon juice and rind. Stir in beaten egg yolks mixed with milk, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, pour into custard cups. Set the cups in a pan of water and bake about 45 minutes in a moderate oven. When done each cup will contain custard on the bottom and sponge cake on top. Very good.

CORNISH TURNOVERS

Make a flaky pastry around 3 cups flour which will make 4 pastries. Roll out the size of a dinner plate (not thin).
On one-half of each pastry, slice raw potatoes very thin, arrange so that 1 inch border is allowed. On top of potato slices cube very small carrots. Next a tablespoonful finely chopped onions, then some minced parsley, a good sprinkle of salt, a dash of pepper, thyme and marjoram. Next and lastly small cubes of raw beef and pork. Brush pastry with ice water and butter. Fold over and crimp edges securely. Make an air hole. Bake 45° for 25 minutes then lower temperature to 35° and bake 30 minutes more.
These are so much nicer than large meat pies, in that they possess that individual air that is mighty enjoyable, especially to men folks.

MARYLAND TERRAPIN

1 chicken liver
3 eggs, hard boiled
Cold cooked chicken, 1 quart, cut small
Salt
Pepper
Nutmeg
3 tablespoonful butter
2 tablespoonful flour
1 cupful chicken stock
1 cupful cream
Yolks of two eggs, raw
4 tablespoonful sherry
1 teaspoonful lemon juice
This is supposed to be a chafing dish recipe, but it works just as well in an ordinary pan on a gas range. Here's how:
Chop the chicken liver and the hard boiled eggs a bit coarse; add the cold chicken, and season with salt, pepper, and a bit of nutmeg.
Put the butter in the chafing dish—or pan—and when it is melted stir in the flour until the mixture is smooth and frothy;

SANDWICHES

Some Good Fillings

It is difficult to better the sandwich for refreshments on informal occasions; but it must be well made. The butter should be slightly warmed—but on no account oiled—beaten up with a drop of milk, and well seasoned. Then the filling should be thoroughly mixed in. This is an excellent method with watercress, mustard and cress, finely chopped hard-boiled egg, pounded sardines, chopped olives and gherkins. Ham, tongue, and beef should be put through the mincer; a little chopped beetroot or pickle mixed with the meat is an improvement. Tomato should be seasoned with pepper, salt, and lemon juice before being used for sandwiches, and a few drops of anchovy essence should be mixed with the butter. Salad sandwiches are always welcomed; chop finely any greenstuff available, mix with mayonnaise and spread on wholemeal bread. Some more elaborate sandwiches are made as follows: Chopped lobster, mushrooms, pepper, salt, and lemon juice; finely grated cheese, butter, cream, tomato ketchup, and paprika; shrimps, celery, and mayonnaise; cream cheese, chopped celery, walnuts, parsley, and butter; minced beef, olives, and chopped hard-boiled egg; cream cheese, stuffed olives, celery, and cucumber, moistened with mayonnaise.

HOLIDAY ROAST

Roast beef may be served with Yorkshire pudding, horseradish and a brown gravy. Or in the rarer roast the natural meat juices may replace the brown gravy. Fillet of beef is served with a tart spiced jam or conserve and mushroom sauce; lamb with mint jelly or hot mint sauce, currant jelly or crab-apple jelly and brown gravy; pork with apple sauce or cranberry sauce, no gravy; ham with browned pineapple or a tart relish and hot raisin sauce.

Cranberry sauce or any tart jam goes well with veal, and brown gravy helps.

Turkey and chicken, of course need the traditional cranberry sauce or at least jelly and giblet gravy. Duck is served with sliced oranges or currant jelly and brown gravy or orange sauce, and goose with apple sauce or cranberry sauce and brown gravy or mushroom sauce.

Most of the sauces are made on a brown gravy base.

BROWN GRAVY

Three tablespoonful "drippings," 3 tablespoonful flour, 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.
Pour off all but 3 tablespoonful fat of the drippings in the roaster. Put roaster over a low fire and stir in flour, salt and pepper mixed and sifted. Stir until bubbly and beginning to brown. Slowly add water, stirring constantly. Stir until boiling point is reached and then boil for two or three minutes. If the gravy is not perfectly smooth, it should be put through a strainer and reheated before serving.
Chopped cooked mushrooms can be added to make mushroom sauce, made with brown stock instead of water. One-half to one cup orange juice is substituted for part of the water to make orange sauce for duck.

then add the chicken stock slowly. Stir and cook for about three minutes, then add the cream, minus four tablespoonfuls. Stir for a minute and then add the chicken mixture and let simmer for ten minutes. While it is simmering, beat the egg yolks thoroughly; then add to them the remaining four tablespoonfuls of cream; then pour this mixture into the chicken and stir for a minute or so. Remove from the flame and add, as a final touch, the sherry and lemon juice. Then serve at once.

LUMBAGO SCIATICA NEURALGIA HEADACHES

All YIELD to the QUICK ACTION of 'ASPRO'

THOUSANDS have testified to the efficacy of 'ASPRO' and thousands more have proved by use that 'ASPRO' definitely soothes away the excruciating pains of Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Headaches, etc. It quickly stops the pain. There is no waiting or delay; furthermore, 'ASPRO' is safe, and it does not harm the heart, digestion, or stomach. It can be taken by anyone, anywhere, at any time, and the reason why ingestion in the system, it is an internal antiseptic—an anti-pyretic or fever reducer—an anti-periodic—a powerful germicide, and a definite solvent of Uric Acid.

GET 'ASPRO' AND GET RID OF PAIN.

Wonderful for Lumbago and Rheumatism

Dear Sirs, I have suffered for a number of years with LUMBAGO and RHEUMATISM in a severe state, being in bed 2 or 3 weeks at a time each year. Some time ago he tried 'ASPRO' Tablets for relief, and they acted wonderfully. During the last 11 years he has taken very many Tablets, but he enjoys better health and does not get a return of severe pains nor any ill effects from taking your 'ASPRO'.

He continues to take 'ASPRO' Tablets daily and would recommend anyone suffering from LUMBAGO or RHEUMATISM to try 'ASPRO' Tablets as they give such splendid relief.

Yours sincerely,

12 Months' Suffering Stopped in a Fortnight with 'ASPRO'

27 Marine Pde., ST. KILDA, June 28, 1932

Dear Sirs,
For nearly 12 months I have been suffering with Sciatica, and could hardly walk with the pains in both legs. I was recommended to take 'ASPRO' which I did, night and morning, with the result that in a fortnight the pain had practically left me, and I was able to walk about in perfect ease.

Yours faithfully,
(Sgd) B. L. HARRIS.

"THE GLASS KEY"

A Dashiell Hammett story, by the author of "The Thin Man," now showing at the Queen's Theatre is "The Glass Key," starring George Raft.

Political maneuvering, love intrigue and an enthralling murder mystery are the story elements of this picture. Raft, the star, acts the political henchman of Edward Arnold, political boss of a big city. Arnold supporting Charles Richman for Senator, is in love with his daughter Claire Dodd.

Richman's son is murdered after he has had an argument with Arnold, and the latter's political enemies immediately start a campaign to fix the responsibility for the murder on him.

"THUNDER MOUNTAIN"

From the exciting opening scene in the Idaho gold rush right down to the crashing climax Fox Film's "Thunder Mountain," coming to the Alhambra on Sunday, carries its star, George O'Brien, through as stirring a series of adventures—softened by a tender romance—as the screen has recorded in many a day.

"Thunder Mountain" is the picturization of Zane Grey's new and popular novel. Its story, plot, ramifications, characterizations bear the stamp of Zane Grey's authenticity, the irresistible lure of his outdoor action pictures.

BRITISH FILMS WIN AWARDS

At The Brussels Exhibition

(Special Air Mail Service)

Interesting evidence of the advance of British films is afforded by the list of awards given to documentary pictures at the Brussels Exhibition. Germany, the United States, Sweden, Belgium, Holland, and Czechoslovakia were among the countries represented, but in the face of such competition Great Britain carried off several of the highest prizes.

The best scientific film was considered to be "The Sea-urchin," which was shown by the Film Society on Sunday, and "Coal Face," another film in the programme, received a medal. This latter work was made by the General Post Office Film Unit, which was well represented among the prize-winners, two other of its productions being distinguished.

"Song of Ceylon," by Basil Wright, won the Prix du Gouverneur, and as Len Lye's "Colour Box" came under no category the judging committee invented one for it and gave it a prize. This film can now be seen in the all-colour programme at the Tatler Cinema. All these documentary films are short and do not receive much advertisement. But as they represent a side of the cinema in which achievement goes hand in hand with experiment it is pleasant to find them winning official recognition abroad.

"CALL OF THE WILD"

For almost two months, Clark Gable, Loretta Young and Jack Oakie braved snowsides, starvation and death in Mount Baker, Washington, filming Darryl Zanuck's 20th Century production "Call of the Wild," which comes to the King's Theatre next Sunday.

The screen play is an adaptation by Gene Fowler and Leonard Praskins of Jack London's immortal story of love and treachery during the Yukon Gold Rush, and all the colour of those feverish times has been transferred to the screen.

Sir Guy Standing and Richard Cromwell, whose portrayals of father and son in "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" were outstanding features of that highly successful film, are united again in leading roles in Paramount's "Annapolis Farewell," the dramatic navy story which was filmed in the United States Naval Academy, which is coming soon to the Queen's Theatre.

Sir Guy appears as a retired commodore who, having given the best part of his life to his country, has returned to Annapolis, there to spend his last days, while Cromwell appears as the midshipman friend of the aged officer.

"HIS GREATEST GAMBLE"

Discarding affairs of the heart for his daughter's happiness is the sacrifice which provides the drama of "His Greatest Gamble," Richard Dix's new RKO-Radio picture.

Dix depicts the unselfish father in this original film story by Salisbury Field. Philip Eden deserts his paramour Bernice to lend his care and love to his spirited daughter Alice. When Bernice sets his divorced wife, Florence, on their trail, he accidentally kills the woman and is sentenced to imprisonment. Under Florence's domination Alice grows up into a helpless social puppet denied even the wholesome love of a worthy fiancé.

"NITWITS"

To solve the deep-dyed mystery of The Black Widow, an extortionist operating at large, one would believe that Wheeler and Woolsey would subdue their screen nonsense. But not Wheeler and Woolsey! They perform with inglorious hilarity and solve a thrilling murder case simultaneously in "The Nitwits," their latest film comedy showing at the King's Theatre.

The boys are now proprietors of a cigar counter in The Lake Building, scene of two murders and a sinister blackmailing plot, for which Betty Grable, Wheeler's partner in fun, romance, song and dance, is accused.

"CRUSADES"

The most spectacular production by the world's greatest maker of spectacles, Cecil B. De Mille's "The Crusades" is showing at the Oriental Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

De Mille, who made "The Ten Commandments," "The King of Kings," "The Sign of the Cross," "Cleopatra," and other great screen spectacles, has outdone even himself in his newest film. This heroic story of the attempt to recapture the Holy Land from the Saracens is filmed on an overwhelming scale, with a cast of thousands and backgrounds that set a new standard even for Hollywood.

Employment Bureau Gets Big "Squeeze"

The depression which has forced many firms out of business, is responsible for a prosperous era for the unemployment bureaux in Canton.

It is estimated that there are at present 168 employment "bureaux" which consist only of bare rooms where 20 or 30 jobless men and women daily wait around hoping for work.

Owing to the breakdown of the silk industry in Shantung district, thousands of young women have come to Canton for employment and have made straight for the unemployment "bureaux," hoping that work will be found for them, according to the Hong Kong "Chaojanpao."

An Employment Recommendation Agency has been formed, but has failed to place many applicants, and most of those who have found work get less than $20 per month, and most of those who still lack work are returning to the "bureaux."

20 Per Cent Commission Charged

It is estimated that there are 60 "bureaux" and these are able to find work for only four or five persons during a day. Successful candidates must pay 20 per cent of their salaries to the proprietors of the "bureaux," and it is estimated that they collect a large amount each month by this means. There is a bigger evil, however, in the "bureaux" business in that "squeeze" is often practiced on

CHINESE PHYSICAL CULTURE EXPERT IN LONDON

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Nov. 2.

General Chang Chih-chiang, head of the Chinese Government Bureau for Physical Culture at Nanking, who is on a visit to England, was entertained in London yesterday by the Conference of British Missionary Societies.

Speaking in Chinese, General Chang said that after studying the ancient Eastern system of physical education, of which Japanese Jiu-jitsu was only a part, he was visiting Europe and the United States to see Western physical training systems. His aim was to combine the best of both for the physical development of his countrymen. "The physique of the Chinese people is poor compared with that of the West and China needs strong bodies and strong minds in the task before her," he said. The General leaves London for Paris to-day.

workless persons, and it is estimated that around $130,000 is drained from their already-thin purses annually.

Many of these "bureaux" are only over-night affairs, some remaining open for a day, the owners disappearing the next morning.

Most people seeking work have come from the country and have no special training. A majority of the women are even willing to accept work as amahs for $4 per month including room and board. The Employment Recommendation Agency recently posted a notice for a photographer at $40 per month, but no-one could fill the qualification, and the sign is still posted, while hundreds are waiting around for work.

MATERIALS FOR COUNTER- FETTING

Police Finds Complete Moulds

Some fifty different articles which took over an hour to classify as exhibits, featured in a case heard at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday, in which three Chinese were charged with the possession of several moulds for the purpose of counterfeiting Hong Kong coins.

The defendants were: Lum Yu, alias Lum Kiti Sang, Kwong Chiu Pang, and Man Chun.

It was explained by the prosecution that no actual counterfeit coins were discovered on the defendants or at their residences.

A raid was carried out on Armistice Day ostensibly for the purpose of finding illegal arms, in a block of houses in Fuk Wak Street, Yau-mah, At No. 69, which Sergt. C. Goodwin entered with a Chinese detective, the paraphernalia which constituted the charge, was discovered on the floor. First and third defendants, together with two women and children were in the flat at the time of the police raid.

Later that same day, third defendant made an appearance at the flat, and when questioned by the police said that he was only visiting his friends. Later he said that he came from Kong Moon, which he subsequently refuted by stating that he came from Macao. He was detained by the police and later charged with the other two men.

MATERIALS COMPLETE

Mr. A. Jackson, Government Analyst in evidence said that altogether there were 11 moulds sent to his laboratory, which contained five and ten cent impressions for counterfeiting.

In all over a dozen parcels were sent to him for examination, and contained everything from a pen-knife, brushes (for burnishing up the coins), forceps, slabs of alloy metal, a triangular file, etc., and a complete set for electro-plating processes, together with silver plating solution, and brass clips and hooks, on some of the former of which was found a silver deposit.

In witness' opinion, two batteries which were produced in Court as exhibits, would be of sufficient strength to be employed for the electro-plating process.

"With these exhibits, I could easily counterfeit Hong Kong coins," stated witness.

Replying to Mr. D. L. Strellett who appeared for the first defendant, witness stated that no complete or incomplete, finished or unfinished counterfeit coins were discovered, but there were several genuine Hong Kong coins found in the moulds.

"The process is not particularly noisy, and a casual hearer would not probably notice it," stated witness.

"The moulds once formed, may be used over and over again," concluded Mr. Jackson.

"The case, which is one for committal," was adjourned. Lance Sergt. C. Goodwin is for the prosecution.

WEDDING BELLS

Lee-Cheung

The marriage took place at St. Paul's Church yesterday afternoon when Miss May Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kan-tung, was married to Mr. Aubrey Cheung.

The Rev. Chow See-fong officiated.

The bride wore a white lace gown over white satin with a high cow's neckline and wide sleeves, looked very charming as she walked into church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Thomas Lee.

Attending the bride were the Misses Nellie Lee, Nancy Kwok, Anita Cheung and Sylvia Wong, who wore satin dresses of green and primrose with high gathered necklines and flared skirts.

The flower girls, the Misses Enid Fung, Elmer Wong and Eileen Peters, wore long dresses of pink satin with puff sleeves. Bridesmaids and flower-girls all carried bouquets of shaded African daisies.

Master Lloyd Gock Young was page boy. The duties of best man were undertaken by Mr. Choy Man-suen, Messrs. Ho Bing-kee and Mok Wah-han were ushers.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Gloucester Hotel. The honeymoon is being spent on a tour to Shanghai and northern ports. On leaving, Mrs. Ch.

LOCAL SCHOOL'S SALE OF WORK

St. Stephen's And Fairlea's Girls
Efforts

A very successful sale of work organised by St. Stephen's Girls' College and the Fairlea Girls' School, was held yesterday at the Schools' ground and compound in Caine Road when a very large gathering of local charities including the Ministering Children's League.

Stalls under the various classes were dotted all over the Kwok Siu Lau Hall, when Lady Shenton who performed the opening ceremony arrived on the scene at 11 a.m. She was met by Miss Atkins, Headmistress of the St. Stephen's Girls' College. Mrs. Cheung Headmistress of the Fairlea Girls' School, the Revs. G. W. Carpenter and Chang Laap Yam.

Prior to the opening function the school hymn was sung which was followed by a short prayer in Chinese said by the Rev. Chang, after which the Rev. Carpenter welcomed Lady Shenton.

In declaring the function open Lady Shenton said:

SALE OPENS

Miss Atkins, ladies and gentlemen, and pupils—I look upon it as a great honour to be asked to open this bazaar to-day. I shall not make a long speech because I think they are very tiresome to listen to, but I would like to say that I have always been very much interested in St. Stephens and knew it long before it moved to these present fine premises; it has been a great pleasure to see the school grow and expand under the very able guidance of Miss Atkins and your excellent staff of teachers. One has only to look round to see how hard you have all worked to make the sale of work a success and as I understand that most of the work has been done out of school hours, I think it is a very fine effort and I congratulate you all. Miss Atkins tells me that it is possibly the last joint effort between St. Stephens and Fairlea Schools as Fairlea will be moving over to Kowloon next year, so I hope it will be a very great success, but I want you girls to realise that these are difficult times, and that you may not get so much money as last year, you may be a little disappointed, but remember the really important thing is that everyone has been happy and busy doing something for a common cause outside their own needs, the order you all get the more you will realise that it is only work for others that brings real happiness.

LAST YEAR'S EFFORTS

I believe that last year you gave $1,000 to the M.C.L. General Funds and over $1,200 towards the Missionary work in various parts of the Diocese in Yunnanfu, Lin-chow, Pakhoi, Canton and Hong Kong, and what was left a little over $200 was divided between various funds in which you are interested, the Society for the Protection of Children (in which I am personally interested as I happen to be the Chairman of the Ladies' Auxiliary branch of the Society) and the Street Sleepers Aid Society, etc. I sincerely hope you will be able to help all these deserving causes to the same extent this year, I am sure you are dying to begin so I will now have great pleasure in declaring this bazaar open and wish you a very successful and enjoyable day.

At the conclusion of her speech, Lady Shenton was presented with a bag worked by the pupils.

The headquarters of the Legion of Frontiersmen has been removed to No. 62 Tai-po Road last Sunday.

EUROPEAN WITNESS IN RAPE CASE

Mr. Faure's Evidence
Helps Defendant

After lengthy cross-examination of a European witness, the case in which Trol Chai-san, aged 27, tram conductor, charged with having committed rape on a 17-year-old mul tsai, Li Tim-bi, was brought to a conclusion by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday when he discharged the accused, stating that the evidence given by the girl, was not very clear. She had told the prosecution one thing and when examined in the witness box, she had said another.

The hearing was in camera.

Mr. F. H. Williams, Assistant Attorney General, conducted the prosecution, while Mr. Hin-shing Lo, instructed by Mr. F. E. Nash, was for the defence.

Mr. Cyril Munro Faure, of 267 Kennedy Road, First Floor, was the last witness called. He occupied the box for the whole afternoon, during which time he underwent a lengthy cross-examination by Mr. Lo.

Witness said that he occupied one cubicle and sub-let another. His house-keeper's name was Yee Ku, and he had known her for the past eighteen months.

AT WITNESS' HOUSE

Complainant came to his house to work on October 1, and on the 12th he received a visit from the accused and his wife and another woman. They came to see the mul tsai, and the party met on the verandah, the time being 6.45 p.m.

Witness went on to say that he was in his own cubicle at the time, and during the first quarter of an hour, they were there he heard some noise outside, so he went out to the verandah. He could speak Cantonese very well as he had been in China for 15 years. He understood the conversation throughout. He stated that he paid attention to Chan Lin and accused's wife, who were questioning the mul tsai about clothes. Defendant's wife was telling everyone how well she had treated the girl when she lived with them.

ACCUSATIONS AGAINST MUI TSUI

At this time the girl made certain accusations against the accused, which related to the times on which he had made advances to her.

The two women then began attacking the girl with words, and accused seemed to be worried the whole time he was there. The women suggested that the girl was immoral and had been about with men. Accused's wife said to her, "you need not come back if you are pregnant."

Witness said that the defendant made no reply to the girl's accusations, although he had every opportunity to do so.

On being cross-examined by Mr. Hin-shing Lo, witness replied that he did not know what the party had come to talk about. He was not sure whether Yee Kwu ever visited the defendant's house at all, and he did not know if his house-keeper had known the girl before she came to work there, but he had heard her talk about a certain mul tsai, who was being ill treated, and wished to come to his house.

DID NOT KNOW OF TROUBLE

For about 4 or 5 days after she had been in his house, he did not know anything about her or her troubles. In answer to further cross-examination, witness went on to say that the girl wanted to get away from Chan Lin as this woman wanted to make some money out of her. Finally Chan Lin got hold of a Shanghai woman to ask his house-keeper to take the girl in, and this was how the girl came to be living at his place.

If he had known that the girl was a runaway mul tsai, he would not have engaged her but would have reported the matter to the S.C.A. It was not until October 5, that he had suspicions that she was a runaway mul tsai. On October 10 his house-keeper told him that the police were after the girl.

He knew that the accused intended to make an accusation against him. Between the 5th and 9th of October, witness attempted to have a conversation with the girl, but she was reluctant to say anything, but on October 10 she told him the whole story, so he wrote to the Mul Tsai Society.

LETTER TO SOCIETY

The general purpose of his letter was to enlighten the Society with the facts of the girl's case, and how she had been raped on three occasions, by the accused. In answer to further questions, witness said that although Chan Lin was a very cunning woman, he did not think she had any success in inducing the girl to lead an immoral life, but from what he had gathered, he drew conclusions, that this scheming woman was trying to get a husband for the

DRIVING A CAR WHILE DRUNK

Magistrate Gives
Good Advice

At the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday Charles Henry Thompson was charged before Mr. Wynne-Jones with having committed a breach of the traffic regulations, and was fined $20.

The charge against defendant was that he drove private car No. 4052, while under the influence of liquor at Nathan Road at 8.35 p.m. on Tuesday.

Defendant pleaded guilty to the charge and asked to make a statement.

In his statement, defendant stated that he had not been feeling well and had been under doctor's orders and had been on a light diet. He was to undergo an operation. At the time he was on his way home. He had taken two brandies to ease a pain in his stomach and they had taken effect upon him in the car.

A representative of the Kowloon Confectionery store appeared in Court and informed his Worship that the loss sustained amounted to $34.50 which included $9 for repairs to the tricycle.

Inspector Nicol interjected:—When I came upon the scene there was no signs of confectionery whatever. There were three folks present.

The Magistrate: $25 worth of sweets evaporated in a minute?

Witness: Some of the sweets were taken by passers-by and the rest were covered with sand.

A DANGEROUS WEAPON

The Magistrate: Don't try that on me. If you come to me to make a claim for compensation you tell me the truth. You will not get any compensation at all.

Witness: Everything I told you was the truth.

Addressing defendant, his Worship stated that he (defendant) must have felt his inability to drive the car, and he ought not to have attempted to drive the car at all. "A car is a dangerous weapon," he continued, "and unless you are in a fit condition you must not attempt to control such a dangerous weapon. I won't make an order for compensation because I don't believe the story of the complainant," added his Worship.

girl in order to enrich her own pockets.

Mr. Hin-shing Lo then told his Worship that from the evidence of the last witness, it was quite unnecessary to call further witnesses and asked his Worship to conclude the case.

His Worship discharged the accused as stated above.

LOCAL COLLEGE'S PROUD RECORD

ST. JOSEPH'S YEAR OF SUCCESS

Annual Speech Day

"Parents in Hong Kong realise better than in many other places that all boys are not destined for the more lucrative posts of the learned professions, but that the great majority must be content to earn an honest living in the more humble walks of life. And with this in view we have now a Commercial Department where boys are taught shorthand, bookkeeping, typewriting and Commercial Law in addition to English and Arithmetic so that if a boy cannot master a second language, or learn all the intricacies in science and mathematics, he can turn his hand to more congenial subjects," said the Rev. Bro. Matthias, the Headmaster of St. Joseph's College, when he delivered his report at the School's Annual Prize Day, which was performed by the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga, O.B.E.

The Hon. Mr. Braga in his speech stated that he found much food for reflection in the criticisms which the Rev. Bro. Matthias has directed against the changes in the examinations.

VIEWS ON LOCAL EXAMINATIONS

The College Hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion and there was a large gathering of parents, students and friends present. Among those were:

His Lordship, Bishop Henry Valerius, Rev. Father Spada, Rev. Father Gallagher, S.J., Rev. Father Rignati, Rev. Bro. Almar, Rev. Bro. Cassian, Sister from the local Convents, and others.

Prior to the distribution of prizes the College students treated the gathering to an excellent musical concert, the College Orchestra being in constant attendance.

Addressing the gathering the Rev. Bro. Matthias said:

"The Hon. Mr. Braga, it is a great pleasure and a signal honour for me to welcome you to-day to your old College and to thank you for presiding at this distribution of prizes. All Josephians feel proud of the distinguished honour conferred on you by His Majesty the King in creating you a member of the Order of the British Empire. This honour is a well deserved mark of appreciation of your distinguished services in this Colony and we all pray that you may long live to enjoy it."

The period under review embraces 1934 and the first half of 1935. It was a transition period for the schools of Hong Kong and we would rejoin believe a step forward.

The change brought about in the entrance examination to the University has not improved things. It is now necessary for a boy to pass in nine subjects, and if he takes Chinese, eleven subjects—falling in any one of which means he must either face another year's work with perhaps the same fate awaiting him or leave school without an external certificate to prove he has had a good general education. I think too much stress is laid on science to the detriment of the time-honoured cultural subjects, mathematics and classics, and for the great majority of boys, commercial subjects. Twelve passed the University Examination with four in honours and eleven distinctions.

Only one of our students joined the Hong Kong University this year against fifteen in 1933. However, two of them are now studying in Aurora University, Shanghai, two in the University of Shanghai, six in the Universities of Canton, one in Santo Tomas University, Manila, and two in the Boston Institute of Technology. We wish them all success.

COMMERCIAL COURSES

Parents in Hong Kong realise better than in many other places that all boys are not destined for the more lucrative posts of the learned professions but that the great majority must be content to earn an honest living in the more humble walks of life. And with this in view we have now a Commercial Department where boys are taught shorthand, bookkeeping, typewriting and Commercial Law, in addition to English and Arithmetic; so that if a boy cannot master a second language or learn all the intricacies in science and mathematics he can turn his hand to more congenial subjects."

Three dramatic performances were given during the year by different classes. The acting was of a high standard and the delivery very good. Every boy from class three inclusively must practice public speaking. The conversational method of learning English is insisted on in all the classes.

Whatever may be the prevailing ideas of the moment as to the best methods of imparting knowledge, the principles of education remain the same namely "the harmonious development of the physical, intellectual and spiritual sides of the child-nature." The last named is of supreme importance in a Catholic College and embraces instruction, exercises of piety, the inculcation of virtue and the formation of character. Belloc says that to be a good Catholic you must be a strong man. The end of our system of education is to turn out strong men: men who will be loyal to God, to their King and Country and to themselves.

Mr. A. R. Sutherland, I.S.O., inspected the school in May and in November for the last time before retiring. Mr. Sutherland endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact and both staff and students wish him a very happy retirement.

In his report he states: "The building is suitable and maintained in good condition, the equipment very good; the staff adequate according to C.O.D. Requirements."

INSPECTOR'S REPORT

I spent two mornings and two afternoons in the school. During my inspection I visited each class, examined written work, heard reading and asked questions on their various school subjects. Work is very satisfactory throughout the school. Reading and pronunciation still require attention. Pupils show a sound knowledge of arithmetic and mathematics, except perhaps in Class 3 where the algebra and geometry as a little weak. I consider the reading book used in Class 3 is rather difficult. All work in Classes 1 and 2 was very satisfactory. Science was very well taught.

Teaching in the school is bright and the atmosphere of the school cheerful.

"The school is very efficient." We have spent quite a large sum of money these past years in renewing and bringing the furniture up-to-date. Minus and zero desks are now used in all the lower forms, and slate black-boards have been a much needed addition to the classrooms. The buildings have been re-painted.

The remark that "the atmosphere of the school is cheerful" is one that can be verified in passing round the classes and by watching the boys at drill and at their games.

The competitions in the various subjects between the classes are productive of much good: they excite greater emulation, loyalty to one's class and a spirit of hard work.

At games we have been doing our share as usual. In football our boys have made a name for themselves, and in basketball we have rapidly climbed to the top. At the Inter-School Sports we tried to re-capture the Governor's Shield; we hope to do better next year. We have very good swimmers in school and they have proved themselves superior to all rivals so far.

SCOUTING

The College Troop of the Boy Scouts had a very successful year. All were very keen in the various activities gone through. We have at present one King Scout and five First Class Scouts; many more boys hope to join these ranks before the year is out. During the year we had four patrol training camps and two Troop Camps—the last Troop Camp being in the form of Inter-Patrol Competition Camp for the MacGrath Challenge Cup. The Troop won the Prince of Wales Banner.

The Cubs too had a successful year. A number of outdoor activities was participated in—hiking, swimming, camping. We have now four Two-Star and five One-Star Cubs in the Pack. In the rally this year the cubs put up a very good show and though they did not win the Totem Pole they manifested a fine sporting spirit.

Corporal Kelly of the Royal Marines put the classes through a very interesting course of physical exercises during the year.

I am very pleased to recall here the part the staff and pupils took in the Silver Jubilee of H.M. the King. Our illuminations were among the best in the Colony.

I wish here to express my gratitude to all who have helped in the efficient running of the school: His Excellency the Bishop for his generosity in giving us every help; Rev. Father Peter who has endeared himself to all—the little and the big—for his spiritual administrations and for his whole-hearted interest in all the activities of the school; our assistant masters and especially Messrs. C. C. Quah and K. H. Lim for the very efficient way in which they have handled the Scouts and Cubs; to the generous donors of Scholarships and Prizes; the S.V.P., the H.K.B.S., and the S.P.C., for helping us to educate poor boys, and to all those ladies and gentlemen who have honoured us with their presence here this afternoon.

MR. BRAGA'S SPEECH

My Lord Bishop, Brother Director, Ladies and Gentlemen,—Brother Matthias has very kindly made the flattering reference to me in the honour which His Majesty has conferred on me. I thank him for his congratulations. I must not, however, forget that to St. Joseph's College I owe my ability to live up to and carry on the best traditions of the old school that has enabled me to be singled out as the modest recipient of the King's gracious favour. To St. Joseph's I owe much, and the present is not the least opportune occasion, on the 80th year of the foundation of the College in Hong Kong, for me to own up to the fact that as a "Brothers' boy" I started my schooling here, as a "Brothers' boy" I was brought up in the atmosphere of its benign influence, and as a "Brothers' boy" I continue in my adherence to its unvarying principles.

It is not given to the happy lot of many pupils of the College to have passed their earliest years on the benches of the first form from the school's establishment to the celebration of its Golden Jubilee, and in this memorable year to be privileged with participation in the speech-day of the college. Such has been my good fortune, and I am happy that the opportunity is offered me for this public expression of my gratitude to the Brothers of the Christian Schools in Hong Kong.

GOOD RESULTS, PRAISED

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we have just heard in brief terms a review from the Brother Director of the activities of St. Joseph's College during the past year. It is a record of good work, of progress and advancement such as has always been associated with the uniformity and excellency of the educational achievements of our leading Catholic boys' school in Hong Kong. On your behalf and for myself I would like to say how gratified we feel at the School's success, and how heartily we congratulate the Director and his staff of teachers, as well as the scholars, for the team work that has contributed towards these good results.

Without entering into detail on the relative merits of the changes that have been brought about as a result of the controversy on the value of the respective examinations for entrance into the University of Hong Kong, I think I may be permitted to say that I find much food for reflection in the criticism the Rev. Brother Director has directed against them. In the opinion of Bro. Matthias the substitution of the Hong Kong University Matriculation examination by the School Certificate Examination "has not improved things." It is fair to say that the change was the result of a demand from the schools themselves.

When I recall the judgment on this question by a London expert, Mr. E. Burney, M.C., engaged by the Government to submit his report on "Education in Hong Kong," I cannot refrain from concurring with the Brother Director in his view of the change. The School Certificate examination as a whole still appears to Mr. Burney as "a

CRITICAL QUESTIONS BEFORE COUNCIL

Council Members Want Information

MARBLE HALL AND CENTRAL BRITISH SCHOOL

Questions relating to Marble Hall, bequeathed to the Colony by the late Sir Paul Chater, together with the pictures, porcelain and pottery therein, will be asked at the meeting of the Legislative Council this afternoon, by the Hon. Mr. J. J. Paterson.

The Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga will ask a series of four questions concerning the reported overstaffing of the Central British School.

MARBLE HALL FOR ADMIRAL?

Mr. Paterson's questions are as follows:

"1. With reference to the statement which has recently been published in the local press to the effect that the Government is granting the use of the late Sir Paul Chater's residence, Marble Hall, as a residence for the Admiral, will the Honourable Colonial Secretary say whether such statement is correct? If so, for what period and on what very formidable task." "It has to be remembered," he says, "that in four groups out of five, papers are set, and answers have to be written in English. The minimum number of papers is nine, the maximum twelve. The task is certainly formidable enough, nor are the regulations beyond criticism." The importance of this statement by Mr. Burney is worthy of attention.

"ONE-PATH" EDUCATION

Brother Matthias goes a step further, however, in laying stress on practical subjects as distinct from academic subjects for the success of a student in the peculiar environment of Hong Kong. With me it may possibly be a case of "fools rushing in where angels fear to tread," but I venture the opinion that Bro. Matthias's objection can be established in point of fact as a result of observations that have come within my personal knowledge.

Another objection of major importance to the present state of affairs is pointed out by Mr. Burney in the report: I have just mentioned. He writes of it as a "one-path" education suited well enough in some ways to those who are going to continue their studies at the University; but, as this authority also points out, and we know it to be only too true, "no more than a very small minority of the pupils in the schools find their way to the University."

Speaking again with special reference to St. Joseph's College, I have an acquaintance with the early programme formulated for it by no less an educationalist than Bishop T. Raimondi in the early 80's of the last century. Bishop Raimondi, be it remembered, was one of the highest authorities on education in Hong Kong in his time. His was a bitter struggle to promote education in the Colony from his own standpoint. The framework for his scheme was that of a commercial education which he envisaged as the first essential for the success of any student taking a course in St. Joseph's. That academic degrees have a certain value I shall not attempt to dispute; but that local diplomas do not possess the same "employment values" for advancement irrespective of other disabilities, in our special local conditions, it is, nevertheless, too painfully evident.

I have permitted myself to wander into a submission of my views on the value placed on our degrees because of the pertinence which the subject has to the higher classes in the College. I now come back to the Institution itself.

FINE IDEALISM

The College building, its magnificent situation, and its healthy environment, all provide the elements that make for the success of any institution of this kind, and I am happy to think that students not only from the Colony but also from far-off places in the South Sea Islands find this College for its excellent equipment and for the facilities which the staff affords in imparting sound knowledge and a good grounding in subjects of education conforming with the Government requirements.

terms and for what rent has such use been granted?

"2. If such statement is correct, has any such grant been sanctioned at any time, and if so when either by the Legislative Council or by the Finance Committee thereof?

"3. Were not Marble Hall together with the pictures, porcelain and pottery therein belonging to the late Sir Paul Chater bequeathed by him to the Government of the Colony and was it not thereby implied that such bequest was made for the use and benefit of the general public of this Colony? If not, for whose use and benefit were such bequests made?

"4. In whose custody now are such pictures, porcelain and pottery and what steps are being taken by the Government for the preservation and housing of them and for the enjoyment of the inspection of them by the public."

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE?

The Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga's questions are:

"1. Will the Government state whether it concurs in the opinion expressed by Mr. E. Burney, M.C., in his Report on Education in Hong Kong, that the Central British School is "lavishly staffed," with 14 full-time and 3 part-time assistants for about 250 pupils on the books?

"2. Has the Government taken the first opportunity to review the staffing aforesaid, as recommended in the Report?

"3. If no such steps have yet been taken to rectify the disproportion between teachers and assistants and pupils, will the Government explain the delay, if any, in giving effect to Mr. Burney's recommendation?

"4. What economy is it expected to effect, respectively, in the current financial year and for the year 1936 when the proposed reduction in the staff is carried out?"

EXHIBITION AT KOMOR'S

Prints, Kimonos, Obis & Pearl Exhibition

Lovers of art will not miss the unique exhibition at Komor's, where Mr. Okamoto is showing his collection of old and new prints, Court kimonos, genuine cultured pearls and old brocade obis. It is very rare to-day, when in Japan to find the old brocade obis and ceremonial kimonos. The greatest artists of Japan took pride in designing the patterns of silks and brocades and much of the quaint elegance of the Japanese ladies must be ascribed to the beauty of their attire. For centuries the people of Japan have had a passion for sumptuous robes and one of the most glorious industries of the country was the textile art.

COLOUR PRINTS

The gorgeous Japanese colour prints were always admired by the greatest artists for the beautifully blended colours, which express its perfect harmony. The collection now on display at Komor's comprises rare old prints, but some new ones are also exhibited and are marked at very reasonable prices. Genuine vegetable colours were used on all old prints and the authentic copies now produced are made exactly in the same way, and sometimes they are even more pleasing to the eye.

Pictures by Hokusai, Gakutei and Yelken, in fact genuine specimens of the great Japanese artist, are demonstrated in the graceful composition of drawing and colour.

PEARL EXHIBITION

The annual pearl exhibition by Mr. Kodaka has been postponed and Komor's not to disappoint many of their regular customers have arranged with Mr. Okamoto to display some of his rare cultured pearls. These pearls are cultivated in Japan by experts and they are so real that experts of the whole world were puzzled whether to classify them as genuine or artificial, for it was impossible to tell which was which unless they cut the pearl into half and we all know that a halved pearl is of no value. It takes about eight years for a cultured pearl to develop and it requires patience and care.

These pearls are included in the display by Mr. Okamoto of beautiful kimonos, brocade obis and old and new prints. Komor's are open till 7 p.m. during the exhibition.

STOMACH REMEDY
for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of "Bisurated" Magnesia to be the quickest-acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of "Bisurated" Magnesia gives a "kick" which produces complete relief in cases where numerous other remedies had failed entirely.

Its Action Explained—

Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment this soothing draught reaches the tortured stomach it begins to soothe the sour fermenting undigested food. The contents of the stomach become alkaline and neutralise the milk; so the sensitive stomach lining. The pain quickly lessens and growing discomfort disappears. Following up the treatment after each meal, your heartburn, stomach will soon leave the tender and aroar growl, until you feel that whatever you eat and enjoy every meal without fear of wind and pain.

A NOTED ENGLISH DOCTOR SAYS:

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I give it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

H.C. — M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

ANOTHER DOCTOR SAYS:

"'Bisurated' Magnesia gives excellent results and is the ideal remedy for stomach, pains and acidity. It is particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, Gastritis, Stomach, Pains, Flatulence, and even Stomach Ulcers."

RELEASED FROM CAPTIVITY

Hayman's Parting With Bosshardt

Hankow, Nov. 27. Although reduced to a shadow of his former self, Mr. Hayman, the missionary who has now been released from captivity, is holding up wonderfully well, states a foreigner writing from Changteh.

Mr. Hayman broke down when he related the sad parting with his fellow-captive, Mr. Bosshardt, who until the last moment was expected to be released and then was informed that he must await the arrival of the ransom money.

Fresh fortifications are being made around Changteh as the result of rumours that the Reds are active again. Reuter.

THOSE COLONIES

There is a certain section of opinion in this country which is busy urging that the British Colonial Empire is somehow an indirect incitement to war and ought therefore to be sacrificed on the altar of "peace." To do them justice, the progenitors of this idea first propounded it before the Abyssinian affair brought it into renewed prominence. In a Socialist Party pamphlet which was already available last year, it was declared "both right and logical that the mandatory system should be accepted for all Colonies inhabited mainly by peoples of primitive culture." But primitive culture was not the issue involved, for one of the duties of the Mandates Commission would be "to ensure that there was no racial discrimination against foreigners without the consent of the elected members of the Colonial Legislature" and, in fact, one of the objects of the extension of the mandatory principle to the British Empire was "the enlargement of the area of equal opportunities for the trade and commerce of all nations." The idea has since developed further. At the Trades Union Congress recently a resolution was submitted to the effect that "the British Government should summon a World Economic Conference and place upon its agenda the international control of the sources and supply of raw materials," in commenting upon which Mr. Ernest Bevin contended that "if those materials were internationally controlled . . . 90 per cent. of the world causes of war would be entirely removed." Mr. Herbert Morrison, again, denied that any individual State should have Crown Colonies at all, though he preferred to see the British Crown Colonies under British administration, since, all in all, "the British were perhaps the most considerate colonial administrators of any Government in the world." He merely wanted to guard against the "possibility" of exploitation by British capitalists "adventurers."

The gist of all this is that, by hook or by crook, an excuse must be found for handing over the British Colonial Empire to the control of the League Mandates Commission. As Mr. Harold Laski puts it, the Government should "announce now that it proposes the 'internationalisation' of its Colonial possessions as proof of its will to justice." In his speech at the West African Club luncheon, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, the Colonial Secretary, restored some sense of realities. He deprecated all this talk about "Mandates" on the cogent grounds that it created uncertainty as to the territories' political future, thereby tending to prejudice their economic development, and that it ignored the wishes of the native populations, as if these people were mere chattels. Actually, as Mr. MacDonald urged, the natives "have a lively appreciation of the benefits they have received under the British Crown," benefits unlikely to be improved upon by the League of Nations. As to affording an outlet for surplus white population, we have already pointed out that the tropical and sub-tropical Colonies are not suitable for that end.

As to the argument about "equality of opportunity" (blessed phrase!) in the exploitation of raw materials there is a vast amount of misconception on this matter. It would be an exaggeration to claim that as much as 10 per cent. to say nothing of Mr. Bevin's 90 per cent. of the world causes of war are genuinely connected with "inequality" in the distribution of raw materials. The British Dominions and Colonies would be only too glad to produce for any market that wanted their goods. It is not for instance the fault of New Zealand if Germany chooses to consume homeproduced butter at

PRINCE SPEAKS AT DINNER

Clear Thinking And Public Opinion

London, Nov. 27.

The Prince of Wales, who was a guest at the dinner of the Royal Institute of International Affairs last night, referred to the astonishing development of interest in international affairs in Britain.

He proceeded: "It is a commonplace to say that the post-war world is one. That is both true and untrue, for if it is one in speed of its communications it is far from it in its comprehension of those communications."

"Knowledge flies ever faster, but wisdom lags behind and so judgment is apt to be hasty and dangerous."

"Yet never was clear thinking in international affairs more essential, never was it more necessary for each successive Government to have behind it enlightened and informed public opinion."—British Wireless.

TRADE AGREEMENT BENEFITS

London, Nov. 27.

Mr. Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, referred last night in a speech before the National Union of Manufacturers to recent trade agreements which had already resulted in considerable increase in exports. Unfortunately, he said the means of getting payment were not as good as they were.

The policy of trade agreements would be continued, but they must bring pressure to bear on those who could pay if they managed their exchange operations properly and if the agreements were carried out in spirit as well as in letter.

Future agreements would be along the lines already laid down, but with the addition of adequate provision for obtaining payment of goods sent to a foreign customer.—British Wireless.

SIR FREDERICK MEETS CHINESE BANKERS

Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, adviser to the British Treasury, to-day conferred with Chinese bankers on the currency situation after visiting places of historic interest all yesterday.

DEATH OF GERMAN LINGUIST

Peiping, Nov. 27.

He was a famous German linguist specialising in languages in the Near East.—Reuter.

two and a half times the price at which New Zealand is prepared to sell it to her. For the legitimate purposes of peace the alleged "havoc" can get all the raw materials they require at world prices. If, on the other hand, it is contended that raw materials might be cut off under the League "sanctions" or in the event of war, that is scarcely an argument for transferring Colonial Empires to League mandates. The real truth is that Colonial Empires are sought, not as a source of raw materials, but as an "extension of the national personality" and perhaps also as naval and military bases. But if national pride and warlike exigency are the prime moving factors, then in the interests of peace the Colonies had best be left where they are.

If Gossip We Must

"As soon

Seek roses in December.—Ice in June."

Byron forgot in that comprehensive list of ironies to include the unreliability of gossip. For who can believe a gossip?

Yet gossip is a thing which we all crave, and a friendly, impartially irresponsible gossip has very few enemies and innumerable friends.

Gossip-writers, poor, hard-worked, maligned individuals, find their engagement lists fuller than ever before they entered the professional literary circles. Yet they know that if in any way they abuse their opportunities, they will lose entirely the original popularity and confidence which procured for them their job.

And so, Citric, be generous, be careful in your gossipings. Remember yourself and your friends that what you write is what you see and think and imagine in your own idle, irresponsible mind. And so, . . . to the Grips.

Undoubtedly one man is very much more popular there than all the other habitués. People ask for him, shout for him, cry for him. And if his popularity is sometimes, as on a very full Saturday night, too much for the health of his collar, it is never too much for his charm and his assistance. Would the Grips be recognisable without Alex?

Next to him, I suppose that the officers of the XYZ are the most regular frequenters of the hotel; Magor was looking particularly tall familiar figure—one smiling a little pompously and self-consciously from a great big monocle; another grinning under golden, feline eyebrows, and swirling his partner confidentially and happily past the band. It is a shame that the band has no conductor to maintain their interest . . . playing a limited number of tunes to a limited audience night after night is not an inspiring work.

Saturday night was crowded, but not with the fluid tangle of racing—Saturdays. Commander Beever, bravely carrying on in the absence of his wife (we hope she is recovering quickly from her bronchitis), was entertaining some of the most familiar friends of the Grips. In his party too, Miss Magor was looking particularly fascinating, her floral taffeta, bouncing in the wind as animatedly as her feet followed her energetic partners.

Table No. 29 was graced with its usual occupants; there is something pleasantly intimate about that pillar which entirely hides one half of the party from the other, apparently, snugly alone. . . . Well, it was Saturday night, and you will know who was there. I, unobservant, and, if truth be told, engrossed with my own delightful party, did not notice whether there were any new or startling dresses, anything of unusual interest. Maybe that excellent small cocktail-party in the really well-ventilated submarine was partly responsible . . . ?

GRIEVANCES OF THE MINERS

Negotiations With Government

London, Nov. 27.

The full executive of the Mineworkers Federation of Great Britain will meet the Secretary for Mines this afternoon at the first of the series of negotiations with the Government following last week's ballot of the coalfields when 93 per cent. of workers declared to support the Executive by a strike if necessary in enforcing their claim to two shillings per shift increase of wages.

The negotiation will also include efforts to control wages by a national agreement, and co-operative selling schemes will be discussed. Hitherto the miners' leaders have expressed the view that the benefits from such schemes would involve too long delay.

Negotiations will probably be continued over several days.—British Wireless.

LIGHTING OF BOILERS OF QUEEN MARY

London, Nov. 27.

The lighting of the 24 boilers of the Cunard-White Star liner Queen Mary which sails on her maiden voyage on May 27 is expected to begin next week. When steam is raised the uncoupled engines will be turned over very quietly for the first time. Then the 25-ton propellers will be coupled up and revolved at gentle speed. The horsepower of the engines will not be revealed until her trials in March, but it is understood that it will considerably exceed that of the Normandie, namely 164,000.—British Wireless.

JAPANESE CONTROL ALL NORTH CHINA RAILWAYS

Important Stations Occupied

MEASURE TO ISOLATE CHINESE TROOPS

Autonomy Leader Defies Nanking

Peiping, November 27. Fengtai, 12 miles south of Peiping, is occupied by Japanese troops. A semi-official explanation is that the troops are there on manoeuvres set up by the Japanese military authorities.

A spokesman stated that the troops had occupied Fengtai to protect communications and prevent the removal southward of the Peiping rolling stock. There had been many rumours lately of the concentration of rolling stock in North Honan for the Chinese military forces.

It is learned from reliable sources that the Japanese military authorities have requested the railway authorities to concentrate six trains for Japanese use on December 3 from Tientsin to Fengtai. The railway authorities are already complying with this request, but the reason for it remains a mystery.

CHINESE LEADERS PUZZLED

CHANGYIMEN OCCUPIED

Peiping, Nov. 27. Japanese troops have now occupied Changyimen station about three hundred yards outside the South West Gate of the city.

Changyimen is on the branch line connecting the line to Tientsin with branch to Kaigan.

Thus by holding Fengtai and Changyimen, the Japanese now control all the North China railways.

Trains between Peiping and Tientsin are running normally, while through traffic to Hankow is still functioning.

HALT AT TSINAN

Tientsin, Nov. 27. All south-bound traffic on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway is being halted at Tsinan in compliance with the demand of the Japanese military authorities, who first pressed the total suspension of the service but later agreed to compromise the demand based on the ground that trains returning to North China might be utilised for transportation of Nanking troops against the Japanese.

It is rumoured that traffic on the Peiping-Hankow Railway may also be halted at some point, for the same reason.

Reuter.

TROOPS EXPECTED

Tientsin, Nov. 27. Three thousand Japanese troops are expected this afternoon from Chingwangiao. The Chinese railway authorities have withdrawn all freight trains on the Tsinpu Railway and suspended freight traffic.

RACE COURSE OCCUPIED

The Japanese aviation personnel have taken possession of the international race course and buildings and sentries forbid entrance. The Japanese military authorities claim that they have Chinese consent for their action.

Reuter.

TRAFFIC CONTROL

Tientsin, Nov. 27. Up to the present only a small body of Japanese troops has arrived. A detachment visited Tientsin station to ensure the observance of traffic arrangements and another detachment proceeded to Fengtai for a similar purpose. At Kinan it is understood that freight trains to the south are only allowed to leave when the north-bound train arrives.

SHANTUNG'S ATTITUDE

Tientsin, Nov. 27. Peiping and Tientsin correspondents of Nippon Dempo reported the likelihood that Shantung may remain aloof from the autonomy movement, at least for the present.

Reports arriving in Tokyo said that General Chiang Kai-shek told Ambassador Ariyoshi that in the event of Japan supporting the secession of the recalcitrant provinces, Sino-Japanese relations would be unfavourably affected.

Other dispatches, however, reported that General Chiang indicated his willingness to grant North China an extensive degree of autonomy, fully satisfying current demands.

However, Chiang was said to have insisted that secession should be arranged under the direction of the Nanking government.

GEN. YIN FORMALLY DISMISSED

Sung Loyal To Nanking

Peiping, Nov. 27.

General Shang Chen has formally dismissed General Yin Ju-keng as Administrative Inspector of the demilitarised zone.

A body of educationalists called on General Sung Cheh-yan and spoke strongly against autonomy last night. General Sung replied that he would abide by the instructions of the National Government.

General Hsu Yung-chang, Chairman of Shansi, called on General Sung Cheh-yan this morning and conferred on the North China situation. The result was not divulged.

NEW POST IN PEIPING

Will Not Stop Autonomy

Peiping, Nov. 27. Circles close to General Sung Cheh-yan state that he will most probably accept his new appointment of Pacification Commissioner for Hopel. Preparations are being made for the establishment of the new headquarters and the abolition of the garrison headquarters, after which the acceptance of the appointment is expected to be announced.

The same circles declare bluntly that General Sung Cheh-yan has not seen General Dohara since they returned from Tientsin and that no negotiations have been going on.

JAPANESE VIEW

However, a Japanese spokesman declared to-day that Nanking's new appointment in Peiping would not stop the autonomy movement which is still going on and which the Japanese expected to materialise shortly.

The spokesman was of opinion that the autonomy question must be settled before the three principles governing Sino-Japanese relations could be settled at Nanking conferences.

The Military Council here began winding up yesterday. General Ho Ying-ching telegraphed the Council asking the Secretariat not to disperse, from which it is understood that he desires to employ them in his new office.

SUNG DECLINES

Shanghai, Nov. 27.

It is reliably learned that General Sung Cheh-yan received official notice of his appointment to-day and has telegraphed declining it for reasons which are not known.

SHANG CHEN RESIGNS

The condition of General Shang Chen, who was recently taken ill with stove-gas poisoning has become worse on account of "mental exertion over affairs in North China."

Assuming responsibility to check the autonomy movement in North China, General Shang Chen, Governor of Hopel, has wired his resignation to Nanking according to a Japanese report.

RUSH ON SHOPS IN RUSSIA

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright))

Moscow, Nov. 26.

Torgsin shops throughout the Soviet Union, of which Moscow alone has 23, all of which, according to a recent decree will be shut by February 1, 1936, are now being stormed by people who want to convert their foreign currencies and gold jewels, into food, clothing, shoes and furs before the supplies become exhausted.

All forms of clothing are being snapped up greedily because these are least likely to become obtainable later. This frenzied rush for stocks and articles of prime necessity that will keep in storage, is explained by the fact that once the Torgsin shops close, foreign currencies will only be changeable at 3 Francs for 1 Rouble, whereas purchases made now can be made at prices corresponding with previous rates.

Soviet citizens who had bank accounts in foreign currencies at the State Bank, have been hastily withdrawing their balances so as to buy up all they can while there is still time.

CAMPAIGN IN OGADEN PROVINCE

Emperor Highly Satisfied With Successes

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 27, 1935 p.m.)

Extreme satisfaction is expressed by official circles here at the result of the campaign in the province of Ogaden, while the population of the capital is jubilant.

The Emperor is reported to have stated that "all fruits which the Italians have gathered in the province of Ogaden during the 55 days' campaign at a cost of immense sacrifices have been lost by them within a few days. Abyssinian successes obtained during the past few days on the southern front show how unfounded was the assertion of the Italians that they had subdued and taken possession of the entire province of Ogaden."

Reports reaching here from the southern front state that the Italian Somali troops are in a headlong flight, hotly pursued by the Abyssinians who have captured six further tanks after retaking the town of Anele where the Italians are said to have left behind several machine guns and a quantity of other material besides numerous dead and wounded.—Transocean Kuo Min.

POSITION ON FRONTS

London, Nov. 27.

Activity on the Ethiopian war front is at present confined to the South, where the Ethiopians claim that the retreating Italians have abandoned Anele, Gerlogubi and Gorrahe.

Operations in the north are practically at a standstill, pending the arrival of Marshal Badoglio, the new Commander-in-Chief, who is due at Massawa to-day.

A message from Addis Ababa states that General Nasibu, commanding the troops at Jijiga, has telephoned the Emperor that incoming couriers report that the Italians have withdrawn to a position south of Uualal, the Ethiopians meanwhile, concentrating on their pursuit, although they have not yet re-occupied the town.

The retreat of the Italians from Gorrahe and Gerlogubi is attributed to the feat of Ras Desta's forces, numbering 20,000, who crossed the desert in the direction of Dolo, thereby threatening the Italian left flank.—Reuter.

GERMAN DECREE

London, Nov. 26.

SACRED RELIC

Addis Ababa, Nov. 26.

The sacred relic which the Abyssinians claim to be the original "Ark of the Covenant" of Israel, and which they venerate as the greatest national treasure has now been transported to Army Headquarters at Dessie, and great satisfaction is felt here with the news of its safe arrival.

It was immediately placed in a bomb-proof dug out, where it is guarded day and night by soldiers of the Coptic priests. According to the old Abyssinian tradition, the sacred relic which is usually preserved in St. George's Cathedral at Addis Ababa, is always transferred to the Negus' headquarters when the country is threatened by hostile invasion, and it is therefore assumed that the Emperor's departure for Dessie is imminent.

Ten thousand Abyssinian warriors of various tribes, and of both Christian and Mohammedan faiths, are reported as having passed through Dessie, after a difficult march of more than three hundred kilometres, continuing their journey to the northern front with renewed enthusiasm, after having been in the vicinity of their national sacred relic.—

LONDON NAVAL CONFERENCE

British Policy Unchanged

London, Nov. 27.

The personnel of the British delegation at the London Naval Conference has not been fixed yet, except Sir Samuel Hoare and the naval expert, Mr. Danckwerts. The plenary session will probably be held on December 6.

The Conference will be opened by Mr. Baldwin and will be devoted to short speeches by heads of the delegations.

British policy has not changed from that outlined at the preliminary talks of the powers concerned in the past two years and which stresses the great importance of reaching an agreement on both quantitative and qualitative limitation.

Britain holds that it is useless to proceed with further proposals on the basis of any ratio and hopes that quantitative limitation can be reached by limiting tonnage under each category within which it will be open to the powers to distribute building as they think best.

There is no question of any agreements having been reached so far, but lessons have been learned at the preliminary talks of the powers concerned in the past two years and which stresses the great importance of reaching agreement on both quantitative and qualitative limitation.—

Each flat in the huge block was quietly examined in turn until finally the culprit of the private aquarium was discovered when it turned out that the water had been running day and night for weeks.

The landlord applied forthwith for an eviction warrant, and meanwhile the neighbours were asking themselves the question "When did he wash himself?"—

LOCAL INDIANS HONOUR I.G.P.

Hon. Mr. T. H. King
Entertained

The Hon. Mr. T. H. King was the guest of honour yesterday at a tea party at the roof garden of the Hong Kong Hotel, tendered by members of the Indian Muslim Society. The opportunity was taken to congratulate the Hon. Mr. King upon his appointment to the post of Inspector-General of Police, Hong Kong.

Laudatory compliments were expressed by the President, Mr. Abbas Khan on behalf of the gathering.

There was a large and distinguished gathering, present, among those at the official table were: Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, Hon. Dr. S. W. T'so, Messrs. W. Schofield, W. J. Carle, C. G. Perdue, J. H. Rutledge and Fazil Hamid.

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Mr. Abbas Khan addressing those present said:—

We are gathered here this evening to do honour to an old friend and kindly adviser not only of the Muslim community, but of the Indian community as a whole in the Colony. Mr. King has been identified with the Indian community since his arrival in Hong Kong as a Police Cadet and was, the Muslim community, in this Colony are specially indebted to him for the many favours which he has shown and the keen interest he has always taken in our affairs.

We should like to mention here in particular the help which he rendered to the Indian Muslim Society in obtaining the site for the community for the erection of a cemetery in Kowloon. In view of all this, it is a matter of extreme gratification to the I.M.S. that you, Sir, have been elevated to the responsible post of Inspector-General of Police and we shall all follow your future career in the Force with great interest and assure you of our loyal and whole-hearted support and co-operation. We have every confidence that you will continue to show the same keen and kindly interest in our community as you have been doing in the past.

The whole Indian Muslim Society joins with me in expressing our very hearty congratulations to you Sir, on your well-deserved promotion.

If I may be allowed, Sir, to strike one jarring note, I should like to say that we have felt keenly the gap left in the Police Force since the retirement of K. S. Nawab Khan and S. S. Mohinder Singh, which gap, it is the unanimous wish of our members, to see filled during your tenure of office.

In conclusion, I wish to thank you, Sir, for your presence here this evening as well as all those gentlemen who have been good enough to come and make this function a success.

THE GUESTS

Among those present were:—W. la B. Sparrow, E. Barrett, A. Dinsbury, A. R. S. Major, Dr. G. I. Shaw, W. R. Scott, G. S. Wilson, C. A. Kennedy Skipton, Rev. G. E. S. Updell, A. T. Hamilton, H. Green, R. H. E. Marks, T. G. Stokes, C. F. Alexander, R. J. Hunt, B. C. Randall, F. Hopkins, T. Hynes, J. Brennan, O. Eager, G. Bird, P. Grant, F. Brett, W. G.

RESIGNATION

Mrs. M. G. B. Macdonald as from November 22, 1935.

(Sd.) M. M. MELLOR, Acting Commandant, Nursing Detachment, H.K.V.D.C.

MR. KING'S REPLY

I am rather embarrassed. When you gentlemen invited me to a tea party, I requested, and I think you agreed, that it would be a small party where we could sit down and have a chat. It is a surprise therefore to me, but none the less a great pleasure, to find such a large assembly in this

THE LATE MR. BONNAR LAID TO REST

Large Gathering Of Friends At Cemetery

It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of Mr. J. W. C. Bonnar, one of the best-known and most highly respected local residents, who passed away in his sleep early yesterday morning.

The deceased gentleman appeared to be in his usual health up to the time of his unexpected demise. Being a man of sterling character and of a kindly disposition, his sudden death will come as a great shock to his wide circle of friends, both in Hong Kong and abroad.

The late Mr. Bonnar, who was born in 1871, was one of the leading business men in the Colony. He had been a member of the staff of Messrs. Gibb, Livingston and Company Limited for many years, and later becoming the Manager of the firm.

The deceased represented the Chamber of Commerce on the Legislative Council in 1912, and from 1914 to 1916, he was Vice-Chairman of the Chamber. Some years ago, he retired from business and proceeded home, but later returned to the Colony as an exchange broker. He was an Unofficial Justice of the Peace, being appointed in 1926, and was a prominent Freemason. He was also a Trustee of the Peak Church.

HIS CLUB CONNECTION

Being a prominent member of the St. Andrew's Society, the late Mr. Bonnar was elected President in 1913-1914 and was at the time of his death, a member on the General Committee. The deceased was also a member of the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club and of the Lawn Bowls Team of which he was an active member.

He played in the match between St. Andrew's and St. George's Societies at the Kowloon Bowling Green Club last Saturday, being the skip in the rink against Mr. G. Archbutt, President of the St. George's Society, taking the place of Dr. J. Macgown, President of the St. Andrew's Society.

The late Mr. Bonnar leaves his wife, daughter of the Rev. C. H. Hickling, former Minister of the Union Church, two children in Hong Kong, Mr. J. L. Bonnar of the Union Insurance Society of Canton Limited, and Mrs. Ropes as well as two sons at home, Messrs. Charles and Kenneth Bonnar to mourn his death, and to whom the deepest sympathy is extended.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral took place yesterday evening where the last rites were performed by the Rev. Tribbeck at the Colonial Cemetery, after which the remains were cremated at the Japanese Crematorium.

There was a very large attendance of friends. The chief mourners were the deceased's son, J. W. C. Bonnar, and his son-in-law, Mr. Ropes. Others present were Sir William Shenton, Capt. W. J. R. Cragg, (representing His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government), Dr. Bunje, Messrs. G. G. N. Tinson, M. C. Johnson, J. T. Bagam, L. E. Lammer, Hon. Mr. E. P. H. Lang, Rev. H. W. Baines, Messrs. S. Kerr, W. M. Fleming, J. Fleming, C. C. Bratt, Col. H. B. L. Dowbiggin, P. C. Potts, G. C. Potts and many others.

FLORAL TRIBUTES

Although a request was made for no wreaths to be sent, there was however, a big profusion of beautiful flowers, which testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held. Among the floral tributes were—

His sorrowing wife and children, Sir Thomas and Lady Southern, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, The Hon. Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Henderson, Major and Mrs. J. S. Brennan, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. HIS NAME IS JOHN

And he comes from Jerusalem—Jamaica—Jarrow—Japan—Java—Johannesburg—as we used to say in the old game "I love my love with a J." From any of these places John may come to Hong Kong, where he will find a welcome and a spiritual home in St. John's Cathedral—always open for prayer, worship and fellowship.

If he values these, will he give a contribution to "John's Fund" to help the Cathedral out of its financial difficulties?

Gifts may be put into the box at the West door of the Cathedral, or addressed to "John's Fund," Cathedral Hall. (Contributed.)

FANLING HUNT

The opening Meet of the Fanling Hunt will take place at Tien Ping Shan by kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stanton, on Sunday, 1st December, 1935, at 3 p.m. Members are reminded that the annual subscription of $25.00 which is now due, should be paid to Messrs. Thomson & Co., York Building.

HELENA MAY

Annual General Meeting Held

At the Annual General Meeting of the Helena May Institute held yesterday, the balance sheet showed a net loss of $2,745.37, although expenses had been cut down considerably in all directions.

It was decided that owing to the depression prevailing in the Colony, it was not possible to continue with the plans for the erection of a new wing to the Institute.

Mrs. R. M. Henderson, President of the Helena May Institute's Council, conducted the meeting, assisted by Mrs. G. D. R. Black, Vice-President, Mrs. C. E. L. Grist, Hon. Secretary, and Mrs. R. K. M. Simpson, Hon. Treasurer.

The minutes of the last general meeting were read by Mrs. C. E. L. Grist.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH
In presenting the report for the year ending August 31, 1935, Mrs. Henderson said:—"The annual report and balance sheet have been in your hands for 21 days and with your permission I will take them as read. During the year under review there have been a few changes. Mrs. J. B. Ross, our Hon. Treasurer, who had done so much for the financial affairs of the Institute, left the Colony in the Spring and was succeeded by Mrs. R. K. Simpson. In June, Mrs. Ross, our President, went home on leave unexpectedly and I took her place. Vacancies have occurred from time to time on the Council occasioned by members going on leave or leaving the colony for good and these have been filled.

DEBT OF GRATITUDE
"We owe a deep debt of gratitude to Mrs. Roffey, Chairman of the House Committee, and her Committee members for the tremendous amount of work they have put in, getting our hot water system altered and generally cutting down expenses in every direction. In the past we used to burn tons of coal a month heating the residents' bath water in the morning by means of a special boiler, while in the evenings geysers were used and the gas bill was enormous. Now all the bath water is heated by the kitchen range and the saving in coal and gas is amazing. In every way the House Committee have tried to save expense; no avenue has been too small for them to explore and the savings they have effected are wonderful. In the name of you all I thank the House Committee most heartily.

A MUSICAL FRIEND
"We all lost a great musical friend when Mr. Bowes-Smith passed on a short time ago. He played at many many concerts here in this room and gave us all untold pleasure. He was always delighted to help in any musical matters and we of the Institute owe him something we can never repay.

THANKS RETURNED
"I would like to thank most gratefully for their unfailing help on all occasions Mrs. Black, who as Vice-President has always given me her generous support, Mrs. Grist our very able Hon. Secretary, and Mrs. Simpson, our Hon. Treasurer, who has given a tremendous amount of hard work and time to our finances. This Hon. Treasurer'ship is no sinecure. I can assure you, and Mrs. Simpson has done splendidly. I would like to thank the Press very much for their constant help and courtesy."

In discussing the balance sheet, Mrs. R. K. M. Simpson commented on the fact that there was a gross loss on working of $2,753.95 as compared with $2,720.98 last year. The net loss for the year was $2,745.37.

REPORT ADOPTED
The adoption of the annual report and balance sheet was moved by Mrs. J. D. Danby, seconded by Mrs. G. R. Sayer, and carried unanimously.

ANOTHER MAN ARRESTED FOR NANKING SHOOTING
Another suspect in the attempted assassination of Mr. Wang Ching-wei, President of the Executive Yuan, was extradited to the Chinese authorities by the Second Special District Court yesterday. He is Fu Yann-tong, aged 35, a native of Anhwei, who was arrested by the Bureau of Public Safety with the assistance of the French Police on Wednesday afternoon at his home, No. 1029 Avenue Foch. The accused is a medical practitioner. It was said that he was the head of the medical corps of the 19th Route Army during the Sino-Japanese hostility near Shanghai.

The Inspector of English Schools in the course of his inspection, spoke well of the great efficiency of the school, and we are glad that he has reported on the work throughout the school for last year as "very satisfactory." For this I feel that the Rev. Bro. Director and the College staff must be congratulated. No less, I repeat, are the boys to be congratulated for the discipline which they have maintained and for the readiness with which they have fallen in with the regime needed for the maintenance of the school's high standard of efficiency and excellent character.

The lead the College has taken in the universally popular Boy Scout movement, its participation and success in the field of sport, and its demonstration of loyalty and devotion upon all occasions wherein such manifestation has been called for in the dutiful interest of good citizenship are matters which the report on the school year has also reviewed and for which our felicitations have to be tendered.

I feel I must, in conclusion, again congratulate both teachers and students for a very successful year—a success which, I trust, will continue to be kept up for the good name which St. Joseph's College enjoys as an institution standing for impeccable principles and fine idealism.

WANG CHING-WEI IN SHANGHAI

Arrives For Medical Car And Three- Months' Rest

Shanghai, Nov. 22.

Mr. Wang Ching-wei, President of the Executive Yuan and concurrently Minister of Foreign Affairs, arrived yesterday morning from Nanking for a rest and to obtain further medical care. He was wounded in front of the Kuomintang Headquarters about three weeks ago and discharged from the Central Hospital on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Wang, Dr. K. Noll and Dr. Tsu Ming-yi, Chief Secretary of the Executive Yuan, accompanied Mr. Wang to Shanghai. The party landed at Chienju, where rigid police precautions were taken. Major-General Tsai Ching-chun, Commissioner of the Bureau of Public Safety, and several officials welcomed the party at the station, from where the latter proceeded to Mr. Wang's residence in Amherst Avenue.

Many friends and newspaper representatives called on the Executive Yuan Chairman, but were received by Dr. Tsu in the afternoon. Dr. Tsu explained that too many friends had been visiting Mr. Wang and that it was found advisable for the latter to come to Shanghai for a good rest. Mr. Wang had asked for a three months' leave.

Dr. Tsu further pointed out that the bullet which penetrated Mr. Wang's back, entered between the sixth and seventh ribs and was concealed in the flesh, had not yet been extracted, and that Mr. Wang would be X-rayed here. This medical equipment, Dr. Tsu added, seemed to be more complete in Shanghai than in Nanking although X-ray equipments were expected to arrive at the Central Hospital in the near future. Mr. Wang had recovered from his former illness in Tientsin and this also needed the utmost care in view of the recent bullet wounds he received.

Mr. Wang's condition was good

NEW LORD PROVOST

Journalist To Hold Aberdeen's Office

London, Nov. 8.

Mr. Edward W. Watt, who for the past year has been City Treasurer of Aberdeen, is to succeed Mr. Henry Alexander, LL.D., as Lord Provost of Aberdeen.

That was unanimously decided at a preliminary and unofficial meeting of Aberdeen Town Council yesterday. The appointment will be made at a meeting of the Council to-day at which Mr. A. T. Morrison will be nominated as Mr. Watt's successor as City Treasurer.

The Lord Provost-Elect, like his predecessor, is a journalist by profession and a graduate of Aberdeen University. The families of Alexander and Watt have been closely linked by their association with the "Aberdeen Free Press" and the "Evening Gazette," of which their fathers were joint proprietors.

Mr. Watt was for a time editor of the "Evening Gazette," and at the time of the amalgamation of the Aberdeen newspapers in 1925 was joint manager of the "Aberdeen Free Press" and "Evening Gazette." He entered Aberdeen Town Council eight years ago and was a member of the Bench for three years. He was appointed City Treasurer a year ago.

and his spirits excellent, Dr. W. S. New told a representative of the "North-China Daily News" yesterday afternoon. Dr. New was sent for the consultation immediately after the arrival of the Executive Yuan Chairman.

Dr. New said he found Mr. Wang's cheek had a slight opening but no inflammation. The wound in the arm was entirely closed, while a bullet was still in the spine and a special X-ray would have to be taken to determine its exact position. This X-ray should have been taken yesterday morning but as Mr. Wang had travelled by train and was probably tired this had to be postponed to this morning.—"N.C.D.N."

LEAGUE DESERVING OF FULLEST SUPPORT

Sir Samuel Hoare Outlines British Policy

London, Nov. 26.

Speaking to-night at a dinner of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, at which the Prince of Wales was present, the Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said the great new feature which had been projected on the traditional background of British foreign policy was the League of Nations.

Some people had been surprised at the eagerness with which British opinion had rallied to the support of the League, but a people whose policy was based on a profound instinct for peace could hardly fail to be attracted to an organization designed to abolish war and remove its causes. A country accustomed to exercise a certain moderation of statement and outlook must inevitably support procedure under which Nations pledge themselves to abstain from extreme courses in their mutual relations.

Finally, he said, people accustomed to face big issues must welcome and support an institution not only inspiring in its conception, but one which, with adequate support, was capable of dealing with so many of the world's malaises.

Sir Samuel went on to speak of the need for a strong and living League of Nations, and warned his audience against the inevitable tendency to consider the position of the League solely in relation to some immediate problem. The League, he said, had two functions. "The first is to prevent war by removing the underlying causes which lead to war. The second function comes into play when war has broken out," he added.

"There can surely be no doubt which function is the constructive one, or to which the efforts of statesmen should be directed."

FUTURE OF LEAGUE

"We must never lose sight of the fact that the future of the League, the future upon which the hope of all those who believe in it as a living embodiment of their ideals are so ardently set, depends upon its ability to perform the constructive and statesmanlike part of its task and upon the readiness of its members to use it for constructive work.

"Causes which lead to international strife are many, and it would be hazardous to forecast the nature of problems with which the League may be confronted in the future, but it is probable that greater use may be made of the resources which the League possesses for considering and dealing with economic questions, and study spent in considering origins and means of settlement of economic problems will assuredly not be wasted," he asserted.

£8,000,000 OWING BY ITALY TO LEAGUE COUNTRIES

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Nov. 26.

A note to the League, has also made reservations on the question of contracts for shipbuilding in Italy now in course of fulfilment. This relates to the construction of seven torpedo boats and two minelayers, all of which had been partly paid for by October 19, when the League's sanctions decision was taken. "These contracts form part of the naval programme of my country, and the units are of great necessity to Italy," says the League's delegate's note.

The Brazilian Government has sent the League a definite refusal to adhere to or support sanctions.

Other important figures expected are those of Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, believed to amount to approximately £1,250,000, and Great Britain, whose credit balance is roughly the same as that of France, £2,000,000.

Under the League's sanctions proposals these amounts, although obviously not recoverable in the present circumstances, will be regarded as definite financial obligations by Italy towards the countries concerned. Only one country, Bulgaria, has informed the League that it has a debtor balance with Italy under clearing agreements.

EX OFFICIALS FROM MANILA

Their Opinion on The New Commonwealth

Dr. J. R. Hayden, former Vice-Governor of the Philippine Islands, and General Frank McIntyre, former Chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs, arrived in Hong Kong yesterday morning by the Empress of Canada on their way North.

Dr. Hayden expressed complete confidence in the future of the islands and also on the ability of the Filipinos to make a success of their new venture. He said that he knew that they were not over-anxious to break away quickly, but were willing to work and go through their ten years of tutelage with patience.

The Philippines had good and capable leaders, who seemed very capable of governing themselves efficiently and learning all that was necessary during their years of grace. The programme as laid down by Congress, was bound to be a success, since the Filipinos felt friendly towards individual Americans and the American Government.

The main difficulty, in the speaker's opinion, that the new government would have to face would be problems relating to economics, and there they perhaps could not find a solution without the help of America.

General Frank McIntyre was also confident that the new government will be a success. The ex-Governor was entertained by the American Consul General, Mr. C. Hoover yesterday, and to-day he will lunch with H.E. the Officer Administering the Government. He will leave on Thursday night for Canton and fly from there to Shanghai, Peiping and Harbin and then travel across Russia to Europe where he will take the boat for home.

SILVERHAZEL'S SURVIVORS

Graphic Story Of Ship Wreck

The Empress of Canada yesterday morning arrived in the Colony, with fourteen survivors of the ill-fated Silver Hazel, which was dashed to pieces off the coast of the Philippine Islands in a recent typhoon.

All these members, who are Europeans, are on their way home to America and England. Mr. N. H. Booye, the first mate of the vessel, described in vivid details the nerve wrecking days that they spent on the ship, well aground on wave-swept rocks. "I have never been ship wrecked before, and this was a terrible experience," he said. The vessel, he stated, went ashore on the southern tip of Luzon Island at 6 a.m. on Saturday, November 9, when the visibility was extremely poor in the torrential rains that fell. All the members of the crew took to the rocks which they deemed safer, and the ship broke in half the following morning.

Thus until Monday morning they clung to the rocks, but finally it was decided to return to the broken vessel. Two vessels arrived on the scene—the President Tat and a Japanese steamer, the Chicago Maru.

RESCUE ATTEMPTS

The latter vessel attempted to come close in shore and send a line to the stranded men, but she herself then ran aground and when she backed off it was discovered that a rock had pierced her hull but had broken off and was blocking up the hole.

More vessels came to their aid, including the New York and two U.S. destroyers, and some of the Indian crew decided to leave the ship on a raft in an attempt to gain safety. They were successful and were picked up.

During the whole of the time they had been stranded those on board the wrecked ship had had nothing to eat or drink except brandy and tinned salmon and ships' biscuits.

RAFT BUILT

Eventually a raft was built and those that could get aboard it set out while the others leapt into the sea and attempted to swim and drift to the waiting rescuers. A woman passenger, the Captain, Mr. Jenkins, and two Indians failed to reach the destroyers.

Last-Minute Efforts To Avert Trouble

Kobe, Nov. 21.

The spectre of a general marine strike to-day threatened to tie-up the nation's shipping, as officials of the new Japan Seamen's Union declared that they would "sacrifice the organization" if the Ministry of Communications bans its right to walk out.

The threat to order the members of the union to stop work on some 300 ships was made by the union leaders as it became known that the Ministry would interfere with the strike declared by the organization on the ships of the

METAL SURRENDERED IN ITALY

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright)]
Rome, Nov. 28.

Collections of gold, silver, bronze and iron are continuing in full swing in all parts of Italy and is meeting with such success that the authorities liken the collection campaign to the plebiscite held by the Government in order to provide evidence that its policy was approved by all sections of the population.

The Bank of Italy raised the price paid for gold to 15.8 lire per gramme, but not in few cases the possessors of gold and Government Bonds, made gifts of them to the country.

Members of the Veterans' Association handed in their medals, the famous racing motorist, Mivolar, sacrificed gold cups, while the Bishop of Livorno presented gold chains of office.

Great success attended the innovation in some of the cinemas in Sicily, which offered free seats in exchange of metal. Within a short time, five hundredweight of scrap iron was piled beside their doors.

measured, by bills, cheques, advances and investments declined by 77.5 to 438.0 million Reichsmarks.

TRADE OPENINGS IN SOUTH CHINA

Western Tastes

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Nov. 28.
To-day's "Manchester Guardian Commercial" includes an article on business opportunities in China. Of the markets of Southern China the writer of the article says: "At the lowest estimate this territory contains one-quarter of the total population of China, but, brushing aside the nonsense talked by uninformed enthusiasts about the 'teeming millions,' we can safely say that there is a market in this Southern Chinese territory of ten million consumers of Western goods. The two main entry ports of this very rich southern territory are Hong Kong in the north and Singapore in the south, both British ports, affording every security and all facilities as jumping-off places for reaching the consumers in the interior, which constitute the solid buying power of South China."

CONTRARY TO BELIEF

"Contrary to what is believed in England, this market of ten millions may be considered as not only possessing sufficient wealth to enable them to purchase all their fancy dictates but also as being, through travel and through contact with Western people and things, predisposed towards the use of Western products. In towns in the interior, particularly of South China, it is becoming more and more common to find shops which stock nothing but foreign imported goods. On the shelves will be found well-known brands of tinned goods, household necessities, radios, and even luxuries such as perfumes, toilet articles, and silk stockings, which a few years ago were unheard of in these parts."

BERLIN SHARE MARKET

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright)]
Berlin, Nov. 28.

Owing to the satisfactory economic reports, the general tone of the share market was firmer, but with a tendency to be somewhat erratic. The turnover, however, was still small.

The fixed interest securities market was stagnant, except for dollar bonds which were eagerly sought. Call money was at 2 1/2, Young Loan (unquoted on Monday) 103, Reichsbank declined to 113, Dreyfus declined to 144, Salzgitter declined to 144, German Steel declined to 144, German Steel declined to 144, German Steel declined to 144.

FISHERY NAVAL OFFICER

COMMANDER ROWLEY
SUCCEEDS TO THE POST

Formerly Staff
Officer To Adm.
Sir Dreyer

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Nov. 6.
Commander A. G. Mack is to relinquish from to-morrow the command of the patrol-sloop Godetia and the post of Local Fishery Naval Officer, North Sea, to which he has been appointed two years ago. He has been appointed to H.M.S. Dolphin, submarine depot at Portsmouth. Commander H. A. Rowley will succeed him in the Godetia.

Commander Rowley has been serving in the Plans Division, Admiralty, since he returned from duty as staff officer (operations) to Admiral Sir Frederic Dreyer in China. He graduated at the Staff College in 1932. During the War he served as midshipman of H.M.S. Iron Duke, Grand Fleet flagship, from March, 1914, to July, 1918, when he was appointed sub-lieutenant of the destroyer Moon. From October, 1917, he was a lieutenant in the cruiser Comus. He specialised in navigating duties in 1920, and has navigated the sloop Clematis in the Red Sea, the minesweeper Truro at Portland and the cruisers Diomedes and Dunedin in New Zealand, the Sussex in the Mediterranean, and the Barham in the Home Fleet.

NEWS FROM THE WATERFRONT

Freight And Asiatic

HITLER TO SELL BATTLESHIPS

CASE OF HISTORY
REPEATING ITSELF

Alleged Offers To Britain

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Nov. 8.
Should there be any truth in a strange tale reported from Berlin that Hitler is offering to sell some of his new pocket battleships to Britain, it would be a singular case of history repeating itself, for the first vessels of the old German Fleet were acquired by gift or purchase from this country. The first transfer was a small frigate which William IV. presented to the King of Prussia, and this was followed by the sale to Germany, at very moderate prices, of the Thetis, the Rover, the Mosquito, the Nobe, and the Renown. Some of those vessels were still in service as gunnery and training ships for cadets until shortly before the Great War.
